

SEVEN TIMES IS ENOUGH SAYS 'TIGER' TENSING

First Interviews With Conquerors of Mount Everest

BY PETER JACKSON

THYANGBOCHE MONAS-
TERY, Nepal (by Runner)

(Reuters)—The only two men ever to have conquered Mount Everest have told how they embraced each other on the icy summit and had a "good look" at the world below before descending 20 minutes later.

Sitting relaxed and happy in this snowbound refuge inhabited by Buddhist monks, Sir Edmund Percival Hillary, the 33-year-old New Zealand beekeeper, knighted for his achievement, told me:

"I felt damn good at the top. It was a beautiful day with a moderate wind. As we got there, my companion threw his arms around me and embraced me."

And the face of Sherpa guide Tensing Norkey, 39, who conquered the 29,002-foot mountain with Hillary, May 23, creased into a winning smile.

"I was very happy and not particularly tired," he said. The lean guide, known as the Himalayan "Tiger of the Snows," was asked if he would like to tackle the same assignment again.

"No, no, not again," he said. "Seven attempts are enough. But I would like to go to K2, for I think it can be climbed."

K2—Mount Godwin Austen—is the world's second highest peak at 28,250 feet. A United States expedition is making a bid this year to scale it. The mountain is in the Karakoram range of the Himalayas in Pakistani territory.

Hillary said he plans to return to his farming in New Zealand after a visit to Britain with other members of the expedition.

"I'd like to come back to the Himalayas again," he said.

The tall, lean mountaineer who served in the air force during the war, said he and his guide remained "about 20 minutes on the perfect summit."

"I took photographs of Tensing holding a string of flags of the United Nations, Britain, Nepal and India," he said.

Hillary, who made four Himalayan expeditions in three years, said:

"The most impressive sight was Lehotse a 27,890 peak followed by Kanichenjunga 28,146 feet and we could see far out over Tibet."

Hillary said he found nothing at the summit to help solve the mysterious disappearance in 1924 of British climbers George Leigh Mallory and Andrew Irving. They were last seen on the final ridge heading for the summit.

Hillary praised expedition leader Col. John Hunt, who was also knighted by Queen Elizabeth. News of the triumph was flashed to London on the eve of her Coronation June 2.

"The whole thing was team effort and the success is mainly due to Col. Hunt," Hillary said.

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP)—Col. John Hunt, leader of the British expedition that conquered Mount Everest May 29, arrived here Saturday night and reported his party had found no trace of the world's highest mountain in 1924.

Accompanied by two other members of his successful 16-man expedition, Hunt chuckled with delight at seeing the bright electric lights of this Nepalese capital after weeks spent in numbing cold on the tortuous slopes of Everest, whose conquest earned him a knighthood from the Queen.

Turning to his fellow adventurers—Thomas Bourdillon and Alfred Gregory—Hunt said: "Boys, how about seeing a motion picture?"

Hunt, 42, told reporters all members of his party are returning in good health and without injury.

In answer to questions, Hunt said no signs were found to solve the mystery of whether two British climbers, George Mallory and Andrew Irving, ever reached the top. Mallory and Irvine reached within a few hundred feet of the summit in 1924, then disappeared in the mists and never were seen again.

A British expedition which failed in 1933 reported it had found some of the Mallory-Irvine equipment intact on the higher reaches. Hunt's team had hoped to find the bodies.

Earlier reports reaching here by native runners from Hunt's expedition said Tensing fought his way to the summit first and then helped Hillary up over the final hump of ice and rock.

Victory over Everest, which has defeated 11 previous expeditions since 1921, was celebrated by the climbers with toasts from one brandy bottle, Gregory said. He added: "We did not have more to celebrate better."

Gregory said he and Hunt went up 27,500 feet and Bourdillon, a physicist, and Dr. Charles Evans, a naval surgeon, climbed to within 500 feet of the summit.

Hunt said his party did not see the "abominable snowman" nor did they see any footprints. The snowman is a member of a legendary—perhaps a mythical—tribe supposed to make things tough for daring men who would scale Everest's forbidding summit. Last year's unsuccessful Swiss expedition said one of its porters claimed he had been attacked by a "snowman" but none of the main party ever saw the strange character.

Hunt said that in April his party saw unidentified planes flying near Everest at great height and amidst clouds. Nepalese government sources have reported unidentified planes over the borders between Nepal and Tibet and said they believed the planes were taking off from newly-constructed airfields in Communist-controlled Tibet. Everest lies on the border between the two countries.

Armistice Set Despite Rhee

UN Reported Ready to Sign Truce Agreement Within Next Few Days

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP)—The United Nations command has decided to sign an armistice agreement with the Communists despite President Syngman Rhee's opposition, reliable sources said today.

Agreement on the armistice was believed imminent, with the actual signing ceremony taking place in only a few days.

Americans on the truce team are hoping Rhee will go along with the final agreement and there is growing optimism that he will. However, the UN realizes it falls short of Rhee's desires.

Staff officers raced toward final agreement on armistice terms. One team met four times here today, the other twice. The meetings will be resumed at 11 a.m. Tuesday (7 p.m. PDT today).

Army bulldozers cleared ground at the UN base in Munsan for the erection of tents to house armistice personnel and war prisoners. Ambulance drivers, clerks, military policemen and troops started to arrive. The Munsan airstrip was widened and the roadway improved.

Planes Unable to Stop Red Surge

SEOUL, Korea (UP)—United Nations planes turned the east-central front into an inferno today in a vain attempt to stop Communist troops who pushed the South Koreans back two miles in a pre-armistice drive toward the 38th Parallel.

Reports from the front indicated that some South Korean units had been cut off and were trying to fight their way back to their own lines.

The UN planes hurled 2,250,000 pounds of bombs on the enemy in an eight-hour attack. But the 500-plane Allied air strike against enemy ground troops—the biggest since the war started—failed to halt the forward motion of the surging Chinese on their biggest offensive in two years.

An estimated 20,000 to 25,000 Chinese troops took part in the big battle on the east central front.

Comet Unavailable For Pacific Route

Britain's fast-flying jet Comet airliners won't fly Canadian Pacific ocean schedules out of Vancouver to the Antipodes this year. Insufficient planes of this type are available.

Canadian Pacific Overseas Airlines manager F. M. McGregor announced in Vancouver today the Honolulu-Fiji-Auckland route will be served by new 64-passenger Douglas planes for the present.

Plans for the introduction of jet equipment on the Pacific and other CP routes are still under study, Mr. McGregor said. Original plans called for a Pacific service by Comets, starting this year. But delivery dates for the airliners have been postponed by the manufacturer.

B.C. SALMON FISHERMEN ON STRIKE

5,000 Expected To Be Involved

VANCOUVER (CP)—A strike of British Columbia salmon fishermen started at one minute past midnight today, coinciding with the opening of the industry's most important season.

Fishermen all along the coast have been told by radio and telegram to keep their boats in port until agreement is reached with operators on 1953 prices.

Certain fishing vessels have been designated as floating picket lines, union leaders said, and their duty will be to see that the tie-up is not broken.

Opening today is the sockeye salmon season. The sockeye has the greatest market value of any of the species of salmon found in B.C. waters.

The strike—second in the industry within a year—will immediately involve 1,500 gillnet fishermen on the Fraser and Skeena rivers. If it continues it is expected to involve some 5,000 fishermen.

The fishermen demand 23 cents a pound for the sockeye. The operators have made a final offer of 20½ cents. There is also disagreement on prices to be paid for coho, pinkies and summer and fall chum salmon.

Tentative Fall Session Date Sept. 15

It was learned today that Premier Bennett intends to call B.C.'s legislature into session Sept. 15.

The Social Credit government hopes that the fall session will see completion of its program of legislation started last February.

An interim supply bill approved last March, when the minority government was defeated, provided enough money to carry on the business of the province until Sept. 30.

The House must now vote funds for the remaining six months of the 1953-54 year, Oct. 1 to March 31.

This will be the first order of business, according to the Premier.

Next will be presentation of the Rolston Formula on school financing, the measure which caused the defeat of the Socred regime last March.

Other legislation includes a new liquor act, new taxation on logging and mining, reduced car licenses and increased sales tax exemption on meals.

Drew to Speak Here June 29

Progressive Conservative leader George Drew is expected to speak in Victoria June 29 on the western swing of his Canada-wide election tour.

Details of his appearance here are being worked out, and will be announced soon.

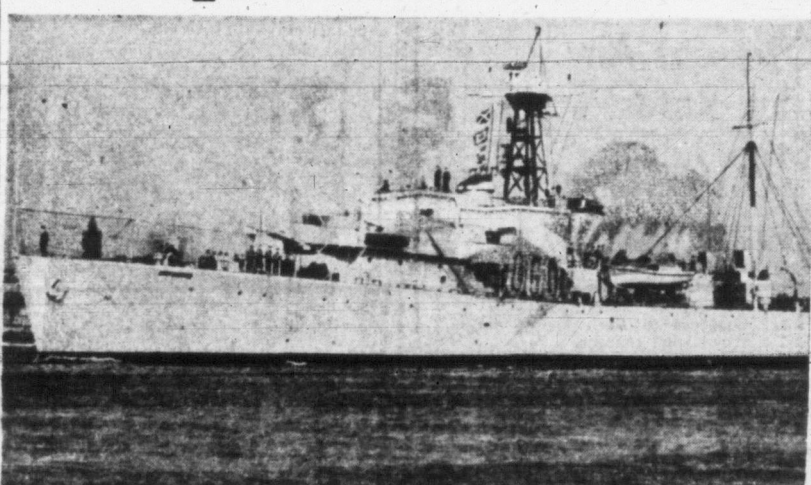

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent will speak here about July 10.

Election day is Aug. 10.

Queen Reviews Naval Ships From 22 Nations

Carried Queen to Naval Review

Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, with other members of the Royal Family, viewed today's Coronation naval review off Spithead aboard the frigate HMS Surprise, above. The frigate, which had been used as a yacht before returning to Britain last year, underwent a refit for today's job.

Terrorists Burn 16 Homes in Kootenays

Bonner Says Government Not Considering Calling in Militia; Awaiting Area Report

The provincial government is not considering calling in the militia to deal with Sons of Freedom Doukhobors who fired 16 buildings over the week-end.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner, although concerned over the new outbreaks, said the militia is only brought out if the civil administration breaks down.

"This hasn't happened," said the attorney-general. "Therefore, the RCMP will continue to handle the situation."

Mr. Bonner is awaiting full reports from the Kootenay area, and could not outline the government's next move.

The terrorists struck in darkness Sunday, burning 16 buildings in the Doukhobor settlements of Krestova, Goose Creek, Appleade, Winlaw and Perry's Siding.

RCMP said the new incendiary raids were organized in apparent retaliation after convicted arsonist Paul Popoff was sentenced Saturday to a 14-year penitentiary term.

Appearing before Mr. Justice H. S. Wilson in assize court at Nelson, Popoff was convicted of burning a $45,000 planer mill and a Doukhobor community hall. Both fires occurred last year.

Sunday's fires were the first since June 4, when a home, two woodsheds and a bathhouse were destroyed in a raid, also blamed on terrorists of the Sons of Freedom sect.

Portsmouth Spectacle Viewed by 1,000,000

ABOARD HMCS MAGNIFICENT AT SPITHEAD, Eng. (BUP)—Queen Elizabeth stood on a glass-enclosed gun platform aboard a small dispatch vessel today and reviewed her fleet in a spectacular naval show recalling the greatest days of British naval might.

Included in the review were 1,000 ships of 22 nations. The Queen, accompanied by her sailor husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, inspected the long lines of vessels from aboard the 1,590-ton vessel Surprise, which normally carries messages and mail.

The Duke was dressed in the glittering uniform of an admiral of the fleet.

Through the glass window and roof the special platform forward of the bridge, the royal couple conducted the two-hour Coronation naval review, which was the principal feature of a nine-hour show that ranked second only to the Coronation itself as a spectacle of color and pageantry.

Atom Age Warships on Display

Afloat in the Spithead review and ashore on the Isle of Wight and along the Portsmouth harbor stood an estimated 1,000,000 persons.

Millions more watched the spectacle on television. Assembled in Queen Elizabeth's honor were 206 British and Commonwealth vessels, including such special atom age warships as the carrier Eagle and the super-destroyer Defender.

It was a far cry from the first Royal Navy review by King George III 180 years ago—three years before the start of the American Revolution.

It also was a vastly different picture from that of the last royal review, after the coronation of Elizabeth's father, King George VI, in 1937.

In these 16 years, Britain had fallen from Queen of the Seas to a third-ranking spot behind the naval power of the United States and of Russia.

But for sea-proud Britons it was a stirring display. Sirens sounded on the vessels dotting Portsmouth harbor as the Surprise, a sleek gray vessel flying the Royal Standard, sailed out on a 14-mile cruise through calm but rippled waters. With the ship's company of the Surprise facing out to sea, the Royal Marine Band struck up "Hearts of Oak." The crowd cheered.

On the quarterdeck, covered by a green and white striped awning, stood Princess Margaret, Queen Mother Elizabeth and other members of the Royal family.

Prince Charles, heir to the throne, and Princess Anne missed the show.

At 2:30 p.m. the Surprise entered the review area, turning westward into the main line of ships comprising Britain's only active battleship, the 42,500-ton Vanguard, and nine aircraft carriers from Britain, Canada and Australia.

These rode gently at anchor at Queen Elizabeth's starboard. To port opposite the Vanguard was the 13,600-ton American cruiser Baltimore.

Several hundred yards down the line, separated from the Baltimore by the French cruiser Montcalm, was the Russian cruiser Sverdlov, whose captain, O. I. Rudakov, chatted with Elizabeth at a reception aboard the Surprise earlier today. Their one-minute conversation was conducted through an interpreter.

The fleet, which had sat silently at anchor, suddenly came to life as the big guns thundered and poured a pall of black smoke over the nine lines of vessels. Each line was seven miles long.

In the trim lines reviewed by the Queen were nine British and Commonwealth aircraft carriers, 12 cruisers, four super-destroyers, 28 submarines, 26 destroyers and 44 frigates including the little Magpie, which was Philip's first and final command in the navy.

New Mexico Jail Prisoners Riot, Nab 10 Officials

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—Armed with meat cleavers and knives, rioting convicts at the New Mexico penitentiary today seized deputy warden Ralph Tahash and nine guards as hostages.

Warden Morris Abram said the convicts, in a note addressed to him, demanded that Tahash and six prison guards be freed.

Governor Edwin L. Mechem, who arrived at the prison soon after Abram announced the riot under way, said he was told Homer Lee Gossett, notorious for "Houdini" escape attempts, was a leader of the uprising.

State police quickly mustered at the prison with tear gas, riot guns and sub-machine guns. Meantime, state police detachments were en route from Albuquerque and nearby towns.

Eisenhower Scores 'The Book Burners'

President Warns Americans Must Fight Communism With 'Something Better'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, speaking out against "the book burners," said Sunday that Americans must fight Communism "with something better, not try to conceal the thinking of our own people."

Eisenhower named no names, but his statements recalled the demand by Senator Joseph McCarthy, Rep. Wis., acceded to by the state department, that the government withdraw from its overseas libraries books by authors who are known Communists or fellow-travelers.

The President said even those

Army Chief Stages Coup In Colombia

BOGOTA (AP)—About to be fired, Colombia's army chief, Lieut. Gen. Gustavo Rojas Pinella, made himself president Saturday night in a lightning, bloodless coup. He named a 13-man cabinet to rule under military control until "clean elections" can be held.

The coup, which was off like clockwork, caused hardly a ripple in the usual week-end calm that prevails in this capital high in the Andes. No extra troops or police were seen in the streets Sunday and at noon the radio was playing its usual Sabbath religious concert.

Ousted President Laureano Gomez was placed under arrest in his home. Unofficial reports that could not immediately be confirmed said he may be given a passport to leave the country.

Prominent Ontario Jurist Dies at 65

TORONTO (CP)—Mr. Justice H. D. Anger of the Supreme Court of Ontario died in St. Michael's Hospital Sunday. He was 65.

Appointed to the Ontario bench last year, he was Canada's first deputy registrar administrator in 1940 and 1941, and enforcement administrator of rentals in 1946. His home was in Ottawa.

In 1947 he was appointed a member of the department of justice and became senior counsel for the federal department of trade and commerce.

Congress Approval Looms Of Reciprocal Trade Act

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's request for a one-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act came up in the House of Representatives today amid indications it would receive overwhelming, if tardy, approval.

The only major battle on the often controversial issue, appeared to be a move aimed to kill a proposed expansion of the tariff commission.

Senate leaders were doubtful this provision would pass the Senate, although it was expected to clear the House. Chairman Eugene Millikin, Rep.-Colo., of the Senate finance committee declined to make a prediction, although he said the extension will be approved quickly.

The bill would renew the President's authority to negotiate lower tariffs on foreign goods coming into the United States in return for similar concessions for U.S. products sold abroad.

It also would:

1. Create a 17-man commission to study the foreign trade

HEARING-AID OF THE WEEK

By B. S. H. TYE

PARAVOX TRANSvac

We take great pleasure in drawing to your attention a wonderful new hearing-aid made by Paravox, Inc. It is the "TRANSvac," which has one transistor and two vacuum tubes.

It gives such clear, natural, noise-free hearing that one 85-year-old lady, who had never worn a hearing-aid before, said, "I don't know that I have a hearing-aid on except that I can hear every word." In a letter received recently she states, "My hearing-aid gives me very good service, particularly at church and meetings." Another customer who has worn a hearing-aid for several years, and who is now wearing the "TRANSvac," writes, "Glad to say I am getting used to my little new aid. Thanking you again for good service."

This instrument is not nearly as expensive as our All-Transistor hearing-aids but due to using one transistor the batteries last 63% longer than they would with three vacuum tubes.

If you have any difficulty hearing at church, meetings or in group conversations, you are invited to call at 326 Yarrow Building, 625 Fort Street, for a free demonstration and arrange to take a Paravox TRANSvac hearing-aid home on trial before purchase. If it is not convenient for you to come to the office, I will be pleased to call on you by appointment. We will be glad to give prompt attention to out-of-town enquiries.

CROWD 'ALLOWS' DUKE CHAMPAGNE AFTER POLO

LONDON (UP)—The Duke of Edinburgh's Sunday polo playing drew headlines today for the second time in a week, this time with a champagne touch.

In a front-page story headlined "The Duke Asks—May I Drink Champagne on Sunday?" the Daily Mirror said the Queen's husband called for champagne Sunday after his team won a polo match.

Scottish church ministers last Wednesday criticized the Duke's Sunday playing. He had been criticized previously by other church officials.

Since champagne drinking is a privilege for the winning captain and his team, the players looked at the Duke thirstily. He smiled and an attendant poured champagne into pewter tankards.

The Duke lifted his tankard and, with a twinkle in his eyes, asked: "Am I allowed to drink champagne on Sunday?"

Cheers and laughter from the players and 250 spectators gave the Duke his answer. He lifted the tankard again and drained it.

King Leaves Country As Protest Move

France May Have to Depose Monarch to Prevent Uprisings in Indo-China State

SAIGON, Indo-China (AP)—French circles said today that France may have to depose King Norodom Sihanouk if he does not soon and his self-imposed exile in Cambodia and return to his Indo-Chinese kingdom of Cambodia.

The 31-year-old monarch and an automobile entourage of 27 persons suddenly popped across the border from Cambodia into Bangkok Sunday. The monarch said he hoped to force France to grant fuller freedom to his Communist-threatened kingdom.

Before departing, the king transferred full power to his prime minister, Pen Nouth, who remained in Cambodia's capital, Phnom Penh. The king gave no indication he intended to abdicate.

In Bangkok today, a spokesman for the king said he had fled to prevent an anti-French revolution, and to lead a crusade to rally world opinion which he hoped would force France to grant his country independence.

French officials here expressed fear the king's flight would touch off uprisings by Cambodian ultra-nationalists, as well as by strong underground forces of the rebel Communist-led Vietnam.

They said all major Cambodian demands already had been satisfied and the king only three weeks ago had told France's high commissioner, Jean Le-tourneau, "there remain some points to settle but they are only of secondary importance."

These sources said this referred to negotiations now under way aimed at granting Cambodia and the two other associated states of Indo-China, Laos and Viet Nam, increased independence.

French observers said France would have to take steps to avoid trouble in the kingdom if Norodom did not return. They suggested two possible solutions: 1. Depose the king and install his uncle, Prince Monireh, who is next in line for the throne; 2. Set up a regency under Princess Souramarith, the king's mother.

After July 1 the unit of weight in international air mail will be one-half ounce instead of one-fourth ounce.

The rate to Britain and Europe, now 15 cents per quarter ounce, will become 15 cents per half ounce. To Central and South America and the West Indies the rate will drop to 10 cents per half ounce from the present 10 cents per quarter ounce. For the rest of the world outside of North America the rate will be 25 cents per half ounce.

In addition, the department announced that it would discontinue the present 15 per cent airmail letter forms and substitute for them new 10-cent forms to be known as "aerogrammes."

The present rate of 7 cents for the first ounce and 5 cents for each additional ounce on airmail letters to points in Canada and the United States will be maintained.

One Dead as Fire Destroys Quebec Town

Lack of Water Hampers Fighters

ST. NERI DE BELLE-CHASSE, Que. (BUP)—Quebec's fifth village fire in four years left this town in rubble and ruin today.

The toll: one dead, one injured, 95 homeless, and 18 houses, a convent, two garages, six stores and 12 outbuildings destroyed.

The St. Neri Church, badly scarred by the flames, was saved only after residents stopped fighting their own burning homes and formed bucket brigades around it.

A tent village was erected by soldiers from nearby Valcartier Camp for the 51 children and 44 adults left homeless. The Red Cross set up an emergency kitchen.

The fire started in the kitchen of a frame home owned by Albert Lapointe. High winds fanned it out of control at 11 o'clock.

It spread rapidly, burning down when the soldiers, police and citizens finally obtained the upper hand.

Firefighters were hampered by lack of water and the neighboring town of St. Charles.

St. Gervais, St. Damien, St. Vallier, Beaumont and Armagh rallied to help.

Mayor Georges Laprise identified the dead man as his 67-year-old brother, Jean, who was burned in his home. Mrs. Georges Aube, 52, whose home also was destroyed, was injured. A doctor said she was suffering from burns and shock.

It was the fifth major fire in a small Quebec town in four years. The others swept through Rimouski, Cabano, Cap Chat and St. Urbain.

Four of the 80 members of the New Zealand House of Representatives are native Maoris, elected by Maori voters.

WHILE FRIEND WATCHED IN HORROR

3 Members of Ontario Fishing Party Die When Hit by Train

BRADFORD, Ont. (BUP)—A friend who watched in horror as three members of a fishing party were killed by a train on a railway bridge said today they were only 25 feet from safety when they froze in panic.

Mrs. Glenor Goodman, 47, was cut in half by the CNR train. Max J. Title, 29, and his wife, Annette, 27, died in each other's arms.

George Haberbusch, the fourth member of the Toronto party, was not on the bridge at the time. He said all had fished there before and knew when a train was coming by the vibrations even if they could not see it.

"I screamed to them to run for their lives or jump into the Schomberg River. I was thunderstruck when they froze with fright," he said.

"When the train was rushing at them, I saw young Title put his arms around the two women and they all died as the train struck."

Conductor Charles Hurst said, by trains in Ontario in separate accidents during the week-end.

The three probably could have seen the train at least half a mile away, but that because of a slight rise the engineer could not see them until it was too late to stop.

The bodies of the two Titles were recovered together in the shallow water.

There was a "no trespassing" sign at each end of the 100-foot bridge, but fishermen use it every week-end to fish from.

Two other persons were killed

Make Democracy Work, Pearson Warns

Minister Sees NATO Unity Weakening Unless West Agrees on Common Asian Approach

HANOVER, N.H. (BUP)—Canada's External Affairs Minister Lester Pearson warned that unity today among the North Atlantic nations will be "weakened and prejudiced" unless an agreement is reached on the west's approach to Communism in Asia.

He said "bayonets or atom bombs" do not present the only way to roll back the Red tide in the East and suggested that the best approach would be in proving that "our own democracy works."

Pearson, who also is president of the United Nations General Assembly, spoke here Sunday to the graduating class of Dartmouth College. President Eisenhower also addressed the group.

LPP to Contest Federal Election In Victoria Riding

The Labor-Progressive Party will nominate a candidate for the coming federal election at a convention to be held shortly, the party's Victoria committee announced today.

The LPP has 80 candidates who will campaign for a Canadian federal election in the Victoria riding, free from the domination of the Conservative Party, Doris Blakey, secretary, in a press release.

A bill of rights "to safeguard our civil liberties and traditional freedoms" is advocated by the party as is "all-round development of our industrial potential and the expansion of world trade."

3 Killed, 9 Hurt In Two-Car Crash On Ont. Highway

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Three persons, including a teen-age girl who was to be married early next month, were killed Sunday night and nine others were injured when two cars collided on a highway five miles east of here.

Dead are: Mrs. Ethel Rubach, about 55; her daughter, Marlene, 17, and Mrs. Robert Keane, 19, all of Windsor.

Ron Barkley, 19, one of the injured, was scheduled to marry Miss Rubach, his high school sweetheart, July 4.

More than 250 cars were held up for an hour while police and wrecking crews cleared the remains of the two wrecked vehicles off the highway.

HABS BUY GOALIE

MONTREAL (CP)—Montreal Canadiens announced Friday the purchase of goalie Bob Perreault from Providence Reds of the American Hockey League for undisclosed cash and George McAvoy, who played with Perreault, B.C., seniors last season.

The Canadiens are expected to send Perreault to Montreal Royals of the Quebec Hockey League.

the college's 184th commencement and both men later received honorary degrees.

He said he was convinced the greatest threat to the North Atlantic coalition lies across the Pacific.

Pearson said the western nations had "been at one" in supporting the principles on which they believe a Korean armistice can be reached.

"Before us, however, there are new and challenging Pacific political problems so grave that, if we do not achieve agreement in our approach to them, our unity will be weakened and prejudiced."

Pearson said the basic requirement was to recognize the distinction between Communist military aggression and Communism as a social, economic and political doctrine which "must be resisted and eradicated by other means than bayonets or atom bombs."

"This can best be done by making our own democracy work," he said, "and assisting and encouraging Asian democracy to work, in ways which will do more for the welfare and happiness of men than Communism can ever hope to do."

U.S. CAPITAL should grub stake the free-world countries, just as they did the development of the U.S.A., Eric A. Johnston told Washington State Bankers Association convention in Empress Hotel this forenoon. Mr. Johnston, one-time U.S. economic stabilization administrator, now is president of Motion Picture Association of America. His speech today, "The Public Role of Private Investment," is summarized in "Business Capsule" on Page 7.

Huge Arms Plan For Japan, Says New York Times

Country to Become 'Arsenal of Asia'

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times says today Japanese industrialists have developed long-range plans to restore the country "to its position as the arsenal of Asia."

The report, from Tokyo by William J. Jordan in the first of two dispatches on plans for Japan's revival as a major producer of arms, says: "In answer to questions from United States army authorities concerned with the problem, extensive studies of Japan's present and future arms production capacities have been completed by the Japanese."

"One of the most elaborate, and still largely secret, surveys was conducted by the defense production committee of the Federation of Economic Organizations, an influential group representing Japan's largest industries."

"However, because there is no real threat of war against any form of government, the Japanese government has not yet decided to begin production of arms."

Yoshida, have seen fit to acknowledge only that such studies have been completed. Among other points in the Times dispatch are these: Surveys that indicate what arms Japan can make in the next two years—including everything from 30-calibre cartridges to 155-millimetre howitzers—have been in the secret files of interested parties for several months.

Another and more elaborate study just submitted to the government recommends an eight-year program of rearmament that would require an average expenditure of more than $1,000,000,000 a year, of which the Japanese expect the United States to foot almost half the bill.

Forest Fires Rage Over 500-Mile Prairie Front

EDMONTON (CP)—Forest fires were burning today over a 500-mile front in Western Canada, some of them in a dancing wall of flame advancing relentlessly through green northlands.

Starting from the twin towns of McMurray and Waterways in northeastern Alberta, scattered fires have been reported on a straight line through Saskatchewan to north of Flin Flon, Man.

Light rain Saturday and Sunday helped check a series of blazes which threatened to snuff out McMurray and Waterways, 300 miles northeast of Edmonton, where flames had moved in on three sides. But a Edinburgh, capital city of Scotland, has a municipal council of 71 members.

"Going up, are you? Well I'm going down to get my Shirriff's Marmalade."

Thousands of acres have been consumed, much of it in desolate muskeg and marshland. Some officials feared the worst destruction in northland history if rain did not come.

Small lightning fires also were reported at many northern Manitoba points. No accurate check could be made of the number of blazes in the three provinces' north country, desert-dry after weeks without rain.

IT HAPPENS EVERY DAY
It happens every day that someone meets with an accident and someone is sued for damages. Every day somewhere there is a fire and the owner has insufficient or no insurance. Burglaries too happen every day, and the victims sadly regret that they didn't invest the few dollars for insurance that would have reimbursed them. And every day someone is looking for just such a home as we have listed for sale. If you have a home to sell, or if you need to find a buyer. Every day someone needs just the service provided by

Mr. Bennett's Long Bow

PREMIER W. A. C. BENNETT IS back in town—jaunty, smiling, breathing fire at his erstwhile friends in the old-line parties. One may forgive him a certain amount of exuberance. The old defeats of the Federal campaign and the inner revolts of the Tory suzerainty are now just dim memories; his Great Gamble of 1952 has paid off and he finds himself, to his utter delight (and dare we say, astonishment?) the most powerful man in our province.

Thus we hear the Premier, in post-election statements, delivering himself of some rather yeasty pronouncements, to wit:

"Many people say that there must be a strong opposition but it is my opinion that there must be a strong one-party administration."

"Social Credit will sweep B.C. in the federal vote. That party (the Liberals) is a party of the past."

"The B.C. election was the beginning of the end for the Liberal party in Canada. It already has collapsed in western Canada."

As we said, the Premier may be forgiven for feeling his oats a little. But apart from his first statement ("a one-party administration"), which can only inspire uneasiness in a democratic society, the rest of his remarks may be attributed to the heady wine of newly-won power.

When he obliterated the Liberal party, verbally, in western Canada, the Premier obligingly overlooks the vote of one week ago today in Manitoba. In case he missed it, we must inform the Premier that it was not the Liberals, but the Social Credit party which was decimated in that vote. The Liberals were solidly endorsed by the people of Manitoba, on the strength of their record. The Socreds got nowhere.

Secondly, we would remind the Premier that the Federal and Provincial votes are two different matters, as so many other provinces testify. In the forthcoming Federal election, the Socreds will not be able to campaign on the negative, "fear" approach ("Social Credit or Socialism") which they used so effectively here. The fight at the Federal level is between the Liberals and the Progressive Conservatives, the same party the Premier once sought unsuccessfully to serve in Ottawa.

Finally, a vote for Social Credit in the federal election is a vote for the funny-money policies of the late Mr. Bennett. It is a vote for a disastrous in Alberta. Mr. Aberhart, it will be recalled, learned from this experience that control of credit was a federal matter, which could only be instituted when his party "came to power nationally." A re-affirmation of this reckless and irresponsible belief, and desire to carry it out, was heard in the B.C. House this spring; it has recently been repeated by Mr. Solon Low and the Rev. Mr. Hansell; and it is quite clear that those in control of the Socred party have not given up on this fantastic and discredited scheme.

Will the people of British Columbia vote for the "prosperity scrip" and the wooden nickels (now collectors' items) of the Socred theorists? We think not, despite the distinguished utterances of the man who calls himself the "Prime Minister" of B.C.

Freedom to Choose

PRIME MINISTER LOUIS ST. LAURENT's statement on Far East policy last Friday, coming so closely on External Affairs Minister Lester Pearson's forceful declaration to an American audience, leaves no doubt regarding Canada's position in this field.

The Prime Minister, with the sentiments of the Commonwealth leaders fresh in mind, indicates that with the close of the Korean war Canada would favor recognition of the Communist government of China.

In so doing, this country would only be accepting a fact which cannot be denied—and which Britain already has accepted—that the effective government of China is not that of Gen. Chiang Kai-shek on Formosa but the regime of Mao Tse Tung in Peking.

That this is not a pleasant pill to swallow goes without saying. But Mr. St. Laurent was on sound democratic ground when he said: "I believe each nation is privileged to have the form of government they choose. The recognition of a government doesn't imply that we approve of the form of that government."

The Prime Minister added to this another significant statement: "I have come to the conclusion that Communism as such is not the main cause of concern to the people of Asia. They have been seeking reforms and it is unfortunate that Communists seem to them to offer those reforms."

These opinions are in accord with recent remarks of Prime Minister Churchill. They also reflect the general thinking of Prime Minister Nehru of India, with whom Mr. St. Laurent had conversations while in London. And inherent in them is the "positive, not negative" approach to the Far East problem advocated by Mr. Pearson.

It is not a sign of weakness to take such a stand. Canada's opposition to Communism as a way of life need be no less, our contempt for those in this country who work for a foreign ideology in no way diminished, and our determination to prove to the world the superiority of democracy over communist authoritarianism in no degree slackened.

It does not condone evil merely to recognize that evil exists. Hope of world peace cannot lie in building one iron curtain to oppose another.

It will be difficult for some United States legislators to accept this position. Many of them fail to distinguish between Communism as a form of government, and the imperialist aggression which Communist Russia has been waging in these post-war years.

Senator McCarthy, for instance, and his followers, see Communism as something which they should try to stamp out in all countries. It would be a happier world if that could be done, but not at the cost of ourselves becoming aggressors, not at the cost of another world war except in self defense.

In so far as President Eisenhower must carry Congress with him, it may be a long time before the United States can adopt a policy in line with that of the Commonwealth, and, if that may be noted, that of most other nations of the western bloc.

This represents the possibility of serious schism against which Mr. Pearson warned last week. The leading nation of the west is faced with a momentous decision.

Something Worth Recognizing

ANOTHER CHAPTER WAS added to the stirring record of outdoor heroism on the Island last week with the account of Lawrence Lansdowne's bare-handed rescue of a young Indian woman from a hungry cougar at Inglewood.

Mr. Lansdowne has seen cougars all his life. He has, until last week, treated them with little concern. Under exceptional circumstances he was quick to realize that the animal attacking Mrs. Peter Coon was far from harmless.

That Burma Girl A-Settin'

IF YOU PASS THE OLD MOULMEIN pagoda, looking eastward to the sea, and find a Burma girl a-settin', don't start reciting Kipling.

She's probably a Burmese Communist maiden waiting to learn whether or not the central executive approves her suitor's case. It's no time for romantic hallucinations. Sentiment is out, like used dish-water.

If the central executive favors her swain, he may then tell the young lady that he is "deeply impressed by your qualities as a faithful and energetic member of the party" and that he wishes "to wage the party struggle together" with her. That constitutes a proposal. Prompt rejection will get her nowhere. The boy is allowed two more pitches in the next two weeks. If he is not convincing within the narrow confines of the prescribed text, he can at least demand an explanation from the young lady. And while he is campaigning, no other suitor may interfere on penalty of death.

These are the rules d'amour laid down by the Communist underground of Burma. Perhaps they are acceptable to the young Burmese. But if they are, something has died on the Road to Mandalay, and we can only hope that the temple bells are saying "Nyet, nyet."

Money Wrench

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

I SOMETIMES see an advertisement written by the English firm of Lawn & Alder. Sometimes this reminds me of gardens, sometimes of Law and Order. But the remarkable thing isn't the name.

What pleases me most is the firm's function. "Lawn and Alder are privileged to supply British goods of high quality to Diplomats of all nations. From London to the cities of the world Lawn and Alder send British goods of every description to meet the personal needs of the Corps Diplomatique. Diplomats and their families throughout the world over rely on Law and Order (sorry, I mean Lawn and Alder) for high quality in goods and services."

AND very nice, too. But there are so many questions I'd like to ask. Just what does a diplomat need that the rest of us don't need? And do Russian diplomats, or even Bulgarian ones, really think first of Lawn and Alder when they need a new toothbrush (as it might be) or a new zipper on the diplomatic pouch? And is it possible to get stuff through Lawn and Alder if you don't happen to be a diplomat yourself? In my wilder moments I often THINK of myself as a polite but crafty ambassador, fooling Von Papen at every turn. Von Papen, did I say? My career includes him all right, but it goes back further than that, my dear fellows. I was the master mind at the Congress of Vienna. Yet so subtle was I, you've never even heard of me. You've probably got me mixed up with Castlereagh. So have I.

YET the fact remains that I am not a diplomat. So my personal needs are comparatively simple. I don't need a hollow shaving brush for keeping my notes in. I knew a smart-aleck diplomat who kept his notes inside his electric razor and they became confetti.

Which reminds me of the time some students in Boston decided to urge a little mutiny upon the crew of the Nazi battleship Karlsruhe. (Or was it a pocket battleship?) They printed all sorts of leaflets and sneaked these on board on Visitors' Day. Not wishing to hand them out openly, the students fed them into an intake of the ship's ventilating system. Passing through a series of pumps and fans, the leaflets were soon reduced to very small confetti... almost like paper snow. The simple Teutons were much surprised at this queer American welcome, and at a Puritan land where all confetti was white.

As they swept the confetti from the mess decks, they must have reflected that the men of Boston are odd indeed... they throw tea out of British ships and white confetti into German ones.

WHEREAS I? Oh yes, my personal diplomatic needs. I don't need false heels on my buckled shoes... heels containing diamonds with which to bribe beautiful-but greedy spies. I don't even need buckled shoes at all, having given up Highland dancing. I don't need to drink the brand of whisky which shows ambassadors thanking their hostesses for providing that brand. I don't need hidden radio sets... heavens, I don't need any radio set. I don't need fine manners. But it strikes me that modern diplomats could do with a few manners, and I only wish Lawn and Alder could supply some.

In the old days it was the job of the diplomats to understand each other very well. Today they simply yell at each other. Far from making themselves plain, they make themselves ugly. Only last week I overheard one ambassador saying to another "And you can take that out of your diplomatic pouch and smoke it."

EASTER EGGS

MAJOR JARVIS of Country Life was reminding us the other day of an Easter superstition he mentioned last year. "Some good souls believe that if you store an egg laid on Good Friday, it will keep fresh by its own virtue for a full year, and you may eat it the following Good Friday with the greatest pleasure. Well, a chap decided to try this. He put a new-laid egg into a cupboard on Good Friday last year. And on Good Friday this year he ate it, and it was delicious... no funny taste or smell or anything. But in writing to Major Jarvis, he pointed out that Good Friday last year coincided with a full moon, and of course this must have had a lot to do with it. A lot of everything. I FIND that little story very pleasing. I am all for superstition every time, especially when it seems to work. But as a bloke who is interested in the laws of evidence avoided by stories of the supernatural, I feel I should point out two things. First, the man may be losing his senses of taste and smell, or have had them hypnotized by faith. And second, if his wife knew why the egg was in the cupboard, as she must have, what egg there as a joke, on the night of Maundy Thursday to Good Friday? Sorry to be a spoilsport, but...."

FLING AWAY AMBITION

SOME Grade Six boys (aged about 12) were discussing what they wanted to be. Most of them wanted to be fighter pilots... in my opinion a good sign. One I am happy to say in this dockyard city, wanted to be a naval officer. You can guess most of the ambitions yourself, in 12-year-olds. But I bet you can't guess this: two boys wanted to be zoo-keepers when they grew up. They came from so-called good homes in a so-called respectable district... they are not street Arabs or tenement dwellers, and their parents are not divorced or suffering from DT's. The other boys thought they were joking at first. But they got angry at this theory, and said they had already bought the first part of their uniform, the hats. I'm glad to say, I'd like to forget the whole story.

The Up-Island Viewpoint

MAKE MINE VANILLA

Nanaimo Free Press

The remarks of the English delegate to the WCTU world conference in Vancouver would have been more impressive had she given chapter and verse for her allegation. She said apparently without qualification that ice cream flavored with alcohol was being sold to English children. That was the way they got their taste for liquor.

It occurs to us that if the WCTU in Britain knows and can prove such practices are in use the organization has a sure-fire remedy. All it has to do, surely, is report the manufacturers to the health authorities under the pure food act.

We note the delegate says the ice cream is being SOLD to children. That does away with any suggestion the parents are directly responsible.

Remarks such as made by the delegate do not impress. They simply raise doubts in the mind, which, in this case, do not do the cause of temperance any good. Much better, we suggest, for the temperance organization to attempt to offset the liquor drinking habit by making easily accessible milk and soft drink bars.

Apart from anything else what a filthy concoction liquor and ice cream would be. Sickening. It would spoil both ingredients.

BEST EXAMPLE

Ladysmith Chronicle

If god stable government is the purpose of an enlightened enfranchisement, the candidates of minor groups and the independents, be they men of good character, are not the best example of political intelligence, or otherwise, are merely wasting votes and the public time.

There is a system of political compromise. The party—any party—must contain within itself a multitude of the pastel shades of opinion suspended in the broad true color of its platform principles.

There is historical and practical significance in the knowledge that in the Motherland of parliaments, the two-party system, even at its finest balance, is still the best example of democracy at work in representative constitutional government.

IN JEOPARDY

Twin Cities Times (Port Alberni)

When voting rights are ignored and when people forget that the secret ballot is the symbol and the proof of a democracy they are jeopardizing a system for which others have died and for which, no doubt, they, too, are willing to make sacrifices.

In failing to vote, a person must realize that he is giving up the right to criticize or complain if the country is not run to his satisfaction. In voting, he knows that he is doing what he can to ensure the best, as he sees it, for the country of which he is a part.

HERALDRY

Cowichan Leader

Even the government has something to learn about decoration. It is not usual to show the lilies of old France or the harp of Ireland on a black background. It should be blue. Neither should the maple leaves in the shields at Duncan post office have any field other than pure white. The indeterminate color used is akin to the mistake made years ago on the IODE depiction of Canada's arms.

DANGEROUS WINDBAG

Courtenay-Comox Argus

When is Eisenhower going to disown that most dangerous windbag McCarthy? Those who liked like at the presidential election are very disappointed that he is allowing the senator from Chicago to go unchallenged. He should have been slapped down by the administration long ago.

Perhaps it is because he is the trumpet of the American people that the liberal language says very much the same thing on foreign and domestic policy. Canadians and all the rest of the western world are waiting for Eisenhower to act. He has the power, has he the will?

McCarthy is a gift to the Kremlin and all the Soviet-inspired world and will remain so until he is disowned by Eisenhower.

Putting It Mildly

Toronto Globe and Mail

Recent dispatches have reported, in words suggesting at least mild disapproval, that the British spent $100,000,000 on a "Coronation spree." How the figure was arrived at is not clear. It seems to be vaguely based on statistics of savings account withdrawals and bank clearances.

Whether it is accurate or not, the curious point is that British expenditures on a gala occasion, should make a news story and should be described by the derogatory word "spree."

Of course $100,000,000 is a considerable sum but it must be very much less than a normal week's circulation of money in Britain. It works out at just two pounds per head or six dollars—not much more than a North American would spend to take his family to the movies or a baseball game without feeling in the least extravagant.

No doubt the average Briton did allow himself a bit of a fling for the crowning of Queen Elizabeth. There was indeed some loss of wages (and production) because of the parties and all-night vigils on the sidewalks and the absenteeism from jobs.

But the British were spending pounds, not dollars, to take this holiday; and to say that they deserved it, when they gave the whole world joy and inspiration by the splendid spectacle of the Coronation, is surely putting it mildly.

As Our Readers See It

LIGHT SENTENCE

I heartily endorse the complaint of "Citizen" of the leniency of the light punishment inflicted on the young "hoi-gan" who led the police a long chase at 80 miles per hour, just for the fun of giving "the cops" a dangerous task.

In these days of crazy wages a $50 fine means little and as far as revoking his driving license, he'll quite likely continue to drive to the public's danger in the belief that only a "sissy sentence" will be his lot, if caught.

If our magistrates have not the power to impose drastic punishment for this imposition on the public, it's time they were given such power and ordered to use it. It seems to me the law leans over backwards to protect the criminal and nullify police efforts.

"INDIGNANT."

NURSING HOME

In Thursday night's Times there was a letter to the editor signed by A. B. M., regarding the Victoria Nursing Home. Apparently the writer of this letter had not read the letter published on the editorial page of the Times on June 1, and signed by the president, explaining the position of the society, but omitted to say that the society, which is a "non-profit institution" had paid its taxes regularly and asked no grants from any government beyond the regular charges made to patients, including patients under the city's care, and which charges are $30 a month less than the minimum paid by the city to other homes and generally explained how it came to pass that the city purchased the property and conveyed it to the Victoria Nursing Home Society, as it did not wish to run a hospital.

A. B. M. has apparently little knowledge of the needs of the unfortunate, nor does he realize that this is not a "privately owned nursing home."

IRENE WARREN.

President Victoria Nursing Home Auxiliary, 2323 Oak Bay Avenue.

War Veterans' Allowance

I enclose, herewith, a resolution dealing with War Veterans' Allowances, which was unanimously endorsed by the delegates attending the 21st provincial convention of the Canadian Legion, held in Nanaimo from May 24 to 27.

The Canadian Legion has maintained that the small allowance, granted to veterans under the War Veterans' Allowance Act, is totally inadequate for their main needs, and has made repeated efforts, during the past two years, to have the federal government raise the basic rates and the total permissive income, under this act, and will also continue to do so until the plight of these old veterans is recognized.

The delegates attending our convention were extremely perturbed at the complete inaction of the federal government in dealing with this serious matter, as a result of which the enclosed resolution was unanimously endorsed.

I would appreciate it if you could give this matter full publicity by printing the complete resolution.

D. MACLENNAN,
Acting Executive Secretary, 1372 Seymour St., The Canadian Legion, Vancouver 2, B.C.

WHEREAS the Parliamentary Committee on Veterans' Affairs reported on "Bill 181" at the close of the 1952 "Session";

AND WHEREAS this committee, feeling their inability to do other than consider the "Bill"—that being the only matter referred to them—added a unanimous recommendation to their report, that the government should give consideration to the needs of War Veterans Allowance recipients, especially in regard to the permissive income;

AND WHEREAS when the government accepted the committee report, it also accepted the recommendation;

AND WHEREAS the government deemed it inadvisable to set up a similar committee in 1953, but on one pretext or another, successfully kept the matter from the floor of the "House" and thereby ensured that the consideration, as recommended by the committee, would be sidetracked;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the British Columbia and Northwestern States Command of the Canadian Legion, B.C., in convention assembled, vigorously denounces the studied inaction of the federal government, in respect to the unanimous recommendation as made by the Parliamentary Committee—supposedly set up to advise the government on the War Veterans' Allowance Act.

TRIFLES COUNT

I have observed that in his attitude toward food the American reveals significant aspects of his character. The endemic waste, the exclusive reliance upon the grocer and the butcher for all his culinary needs, the obliviousness to what grows freely in the environment—do not these reflect his indifference to frugality as a virtue, and his subservience to what I have called the quantitative fallacy? In a land that idolizes the Rockefeller and the Fords, the growing of a carrot and a cabbage seems a trifling occupation—unless, perhaps, they can be exhibited as the biggest carrot and the biggest cabbage ever grown anywhere.

There is yet no evidence that the experience of the war years has had the salutary effect for which some of us had hoped. The American still wastes and continues to trample underfoot whatever does not measure up to his gigantic illusions. He does not yet perceive the consequences of having used with reckless imprudence the precious yield of the good earth; he does not realize that the quantitative analysis of value is fundamentally deceptive; nor does he yet see with any clarity that, in his uncritical devotion to big things, he has neglected the trifles which, in their totality, constitute a principal ingredient in human happiness.

—Angelo Pellegrini, in "The Unprejudiced Palette."

Picking the Winners

WHENEVER there's a general election in British Columbia, folk in our office hold a sweepstake on the result. It's an entertaining way of losing a quarter and it gives you a chance to express your sentiments. In spite of the practice we've had recently, a lot of the entries aren't very expert.

Stott

Still, a few of the approved techniques are worth examination. The contest is simple enough. You pay your two-bits and then you set down the number of seats you imagine may be taken by each party. But before you do that, there's one rule you must follow.

You must explain to the person whose figures are the sweep that your figures are purely guesses. "So many imponderables," you explain to him. "You can't tell this time what's going to happen." The inference is that if every voter were as smart as you, the result would be a foregone conclusion. But you have to make allowances for misunderstandings on the public's part and a certain mental confusion in the selection of second, third and fourth choices.

It's imperative to establish your position. "It's only a guess at best," you explain, thereby protecting yourself.

OBVIOUS, WASN'T IT

Of course, if you happen to come close to the final result, you sort of brush aside the hedging you did when you made your bet. The reaction then is more direct. "Not so far out at that was, is it?" Of course, it was pretty obvious it was going to happen. You know, horse races and elections—never safe to bet on, and you always have a reasonable explanation of the way the alternative votes went.

Now, as in horse-racing, so in election betting, there's a scientific way of losing. You can study the form-sheets. They're the tabulation of votes from the preceding contests. You decide the electors who voted first for Party A and gave second choice to Party C are going to change this time and mark their alternates favoring Party B. Those who plunged on Party D are going to swing to a division between Party C and Party B.

How do you arrive at these conclusions? Why, it's very simple. Look... But maybe you've been through all that before.

Then you go out and feel the public pulse. You ask the men in the back of the bus what's going to happen. You talk it over with the fellow next to you at the coffee counter. You query the waitress. She's free, white and 21 too. You mention a party and ask her how it'll do. She'll probably repeat the party's name and query "What're they?" Don't laugh. Chances are she'll win the sweepstake, but by a different system.

NO FORM CHARTS

She doesn't worry too much about the form charts, the weights, the distances and the past performances. She doesn't go into the issue from a numerologist's point of view, or won't even bother to have her tea-cup read. But she has a method.

She may go home at night and before retiring make herself three toasted cheese sandwiches, two cups of strong coffee and top the snack off with an eccles cake or two. When her head touches the pillow she'll begin to dream and there she'll find her selections.

She won't actually see the candidates of different parties emerging as they will from the final count. Her vision may be a nightmare in which she's running out of the woods pursued by a pack of wolves. Chasing the wolves will be a pack of dogs. Behind the dogs will be a number of hunters. Further in the rear will be a few stragglers who just don't know where they're going.

All she has to do is count the wolves, the dogs, the hunters and the stragglers, and she has the result by revelation.

Or she can go home, skip the nightmare, and pick winners by hatpin. If the experts sneer, she can smile, too, recalling the last victory by Truman so shattering to the analysts, and remembering the self-condemning twist Lowell Thomas put on Shakespeare's line to make it, "What fools we experts be."

Setting the Big Date

OPPOSITION Leader George Drew held a press conference 10 minutes after he returned to Ottawa from London, where he saw the Coronation.

Date of the general election had not been announced when the conference was called and consequently Mr. Drew was loath to discuss the possible issues in the coming campaign. But he did have some caustic comments regarding an August election date.

He described the Liberal government as being "in a panic" and contended that would be the only logical explanation for the holding of the general election in August.

Mr. Drew said he disapproved of an August date for the general election on the grounds that it would "disfranchise hundreds of thousands of Canadians."

His argument was they would be disfranchised because they would not interrupt their holidays, or their plans for staying at summer cottages, to go to the polls to vote.

Had the opposition leader taken the time to check with election authorities he would have learned that in recent years the percentage of voters voting in the summer is higher than the percentage voting in spring or fall elections. The last time a summer general election was held was July 28, 1930. In that vote 76 per cent of the electorate entitled to vote cast their ballots.

The percentage of the electorate casting ballots in the spring of 1949 in the general election, held on June 27 that year, was 74 per cent as opposed to 76 per cent in the July vote of 1930.

The general election in 1935 was held in the fall, on October 14, and 75 per cent of the electorate cast their ballots.

In 1940 the general election was again held in the spring, this time on March 26. At that election only 70 per cent of the electorate voted.

An examination of the figures indicates that calling an election in the summer has little effect on the total number of voters turning out to the polls. And in fact when the election was held in the summer, in 1930, a larger percentage of voters went to the polls than in subsequent general elections which were held in the fall and in the spring.

Consequently, Mr. Drew's claim that a summer election date would in effect disfranchise Canadian voters is not borne out by the facts.

On a regional basis the figures show that the vote in the Maritime and western provinces and in Quebec was higher in the summer than in spring or fall elections. However the vote was lower in Ontario. This probably was due to the closing down of factories for one or two-week periods during July and August in that province. Outside of Ontario Canadians are inclined to turn out in larger numbers during the warm summer months to go to the polls than during the spring or fall months.

On the basis of the records on file in the electoral authorities' offices in Ottawa, chief electoral officer Nelson Castonguay expects 8,500,000 Canadians will be eligible to vote in the 1953 general election.

If in this summer election the same percentage of the electorate troops to the polls as went to cast ballots in 1930 (year of the last summer election in Canada), then there will be around 6,375,000 Canadians voting this year.

On the question of disfranchisement which Mr. Drew emphasized, it was this very problem that concerned Prime Minister L. S. St. Laurent in determining the 1953 election date.

He ruled out a pre-Coronation vote on the grounds that he did not want Canada embroiled in an election campaign on the eve of that solemn event in the history of the Commonwealth. This meant that an election in 1953 would have to be held after June 2, date of the Coronation.

But Canadian law provides that enumeration to compile the voters' list must start on a Monday, the 49th day before polling day, and it must end on the 44th day before polling day. The prime minister was convinced that it was important to take the enumeration in June before the holiday period began.

Taking the enumeration in June meant a more accurate voters' list. If names were left off the list Canadians would be disfranchised, whereas if the list was accurate the fact that a Canadian declined to vote because he was on vacation meant he was disfranchising himself.

Hence the decision on August 10, which enables the enumerators to start work this month, before Canadians are absent from their homes at cottages or on holidays.

Sheridan Going to Mexico

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ann Sheridan said today she is leaving a "tense" Hollywood to make her residence in Mexico.

"Yes, I plan to sell my home in the Fernando Valley and live in Mexico City," she said. "I'll probably be there six months out of the year, returning to Hollywood for a couple of pictures a year. That's been my usual schedule."

There are several reasons for her switch. One of them is the state of the industry, she said.

"It used to be a lot of fun making pictures, but nowadays everybody is so tense. There's a completely different feeling in the studios. And it's not caused by 3D or anything like that."

I mentioned that it might be because so many film workers are out of jobs and those who are employed don't know how long it will last.

"That's probably it," she commented. Ann added that she fell in love with Mexico long ago and has wanted to live in the easier pace below the border. She also plans to make some pictures with her own company in Mexico.

"I think the Mexican film industry is just hitting its stride. They're going to be doing great things down there. I'm sure it's going to rank next to Hollywood in importance as a film capital."

But she emphasized that her plans involved no tax dodge.

"When I work in this country, I'll pay taxes here; when I work in Mexico, I'll pay taxes there," she said.

Ann is selling her 11 valley home. When she bought it it was out in the wilds. Like the rest of Southern California, the area has boomed and there are houses all around her. She now has to fight an hour of traffic to get to work.

Although she didn't mention it, friends believe that a large part of the reason for her change of locale is her grief over the death of publicist Steve Hannagan. His passing left a void in her life.

One Killed, Two Badly Injured When Car Hits Stalled Truck

DIDSBURY, Alta. (CP)—Merle F. Mullinex, of High River, was killed and George Legebokoff, who was working in Chauvin, Alta., and Fred Dubois, 26, of Calgary, were seriously injured when the car in which they were riding crashed into a stalled trailer-truck near Didsbury about 12:45 a.m. Saturday.

The three men were employees of Calgary Power Ltd., and were headed for their homes for the week-end when the accident occurred. Mullinex is married and has four children.

A tractor-trailer unit owned by Shirley Bros. of Edmonton and driven by a man named Philippe, was proceeding south when its motor failed on a hill. The brakes failed to hold and the trailer backed down the hill and jackknifed into a ditch with the tractor part remaining out on the highway.

The driver said he put out flares and then left to get help. A short time later the car, which was also travelling south and which was driven by Legebokoff, crashed into the stalled tractor.

Legebokoff and Dubois were rushed to Didsbury municipal hospital where their condition remains serious.

SEEK MISSING GIRL

CALGARY (CP)—Calgary police seek 15-year-old Ruth Ganong, missing from her home here since June 6. RCMP have also been notified concerning the missing girl.

She is described as five feet four inches tall, well built and blonde. When last seen was wearing blue jeans, a red blouse, white shortie coat and white shoes.

SKELETON FOUND

MEDICINE HAT, Alta. (CP)—Medicine Hat coroner Dr. E. G. F. Skinner said Sunday the remains of a man believed to have been dead for 13 years were discovered last week near Manyberries, 56 miles southwest of here.

Found under a clump of bushes, the skeleton is presumed to be that of a CPR section man, John Hornyak, who disappeared from a railway bunkhouse near Manyberries June 16, 1940. At that time he was 47 years of age.

TWO PRESUMED DEAD

FLIN FLON, Man. (CP)—Two men, missing since Thursday, were presumed drowned Saturday when police found an overturned canoe, a paddle and a hat belonging to one of the men.

Frank Bloschanski, 23, and Walter Galandy, 21, are believed to have taken a canoe ride down the river when their craft was upset by a sudden squall on Phantom Lake near Flin Flon.

Four Charged With $10,000 B.C. Robbery

Suspects in Liquor Store Break-In Held

PRINCE RUPERT (BUP)

Four men charged with Sunday's $10,000 robbery of the government liquor store here are scheduled to appear in police court today. Police still had not identified them.

The four were rounded up Sunday afternoon after they cased a store safe containing the loot near the CNR Railway station at Tyee, a few miles from Prince Rupert on the Skeena Highway.

Police said the quartet apparently feared being disturbed before getting their hands on the cash, and hid the strong-box with plans to lay low for a time.

All the money was recovered. The men were captured in their speeding truck by one of several RCMP patrol cars when the robbery was noticed. The men gained entrance to the liquor store through a ventilation window in the roof. They crawled along the rafters before lowering themselves to the main floor. Then they smashed a door of the store warehouse and carted the safe out to a waiting truck.

Russia Names New Island Campsite Ambassador to Yugoslavia

BELGRADE (AP)—Moscow named an ambassador to Yugoslavia today for the first time since the cominform split in 1948. Belgrade agreed to return the favor.

The Kremlin's choice for the diplomatic post here was Vasily Alexeyevich Valkov, one-time Soviet ambassador to The Netherlands. The name of the Belgrade appointee was not immediately made known.

The two countries never broke off diplomatic relations entirely, but maintained them on a formal and chilly basis through charges d'affaires. The new step contained potentialities for settling the five-year-old feud between the two countries, but President Tito said in a speech Sunday: "The exchange of ambassadors does not mean normalization of relations, and does not mean improvement of relations."

New Island Campsite Presented to Public

Six hundred residents of Courtenay, Comox and Campbell River joined visitors from Victoria and members of the B.C. Forest Service and their families to see the opening of Miracle Beach Park, 14 miles north of Courtenay, Saturday.

The new 258-acre summer camping centre was turned over to the public by Dr. C. D. Orchard, deputy minister of forests, who told the gathering that British Columbia now boasts an average of eight acres of park lands per capita.

The new park, bordering on one of the finest seafont beaches on the Island, has been two years in preparation. Dr. Orchard said, and its existence was largely due to the public spirit shown by Frank Pottage, former owner of the site, and neighboring residents who had assisted the development by the provision of water rights.

EDGE GASEMEN

Students Boost Softball Lead

Chinese Students 6, Capital City 5

In what was billed as the feature game of the season thus far, Sunday afternoon's contest at Central Park between league-leading Chinese Students and Capital City Gasmen lived up to press notices, Students edging Gasmen 6-5 in 11 innings.

The victory moved Students four points in front of the Gasmen, who hold a three-point margin over Butler Bros.

Sunday's game was the third in a row that the Students have gone extra innings and for their third victory.

Last Tuesday they went 11 innings to edge Navy 8-7. Thursday night they edged Butler's Aces 3-2 in 10 innings, and both times they were forced to come from behind in the ninth inning.

But the reverse was in effect Sunday. With the last change of hands three times Capital City was trailing 3-2 coming to bat in the last of the ninth.

Third baseman Bill Reynolds of the Gasmen slashed out a single through the middle to open the frame. After Jimmy Morrison kept the rally alive with a long ground rule triple to left centre that scored Reynolds. Chick Newman came through with a single to score Morrison from third with the tying run.

With two out in the 11th the Students struck for the winning run.

Robinson hit a double down the left-field line. Tommy Derr followed with a sharp single through the middle to drive in the runner.

In the bottom of the 11th, Barry Jackson, making probably his last appearance this season, walked the dangerous Clarkson, who was the lead-off batter, and Bud Ross was called to replace Jackson.

Evans sacrificed to move Clarkson to second and Morris-son came to bat in the same situation he had in the ninth when his team needed a hit in the worst way.

MILD RHUBARB

The fans put up a terrific holler to try and upset the batter (Morrison already had four hits in five appearances including a home run and triple) and after receiving a couple of derogatory remarks were heard between Morrison and catcher Gordy Chow.

All of a sudden Morrison they squared off and prepared for action. In a moment both benches had erupted and a mild rhubarb filled the area around home plate.

Finally when everyone had quieted down Morrison lined out deep to right field for the second out.

Clarkson moved up to third after the catch but he was left stranded as Newman ended the game by popping up behind second base.

Ab Wiebe, who came in to pitch in the ninth was charged with loss, his first of the season against four wins. Jackson, who is scheduled to leave for the RCAF Friday, picked up his fourth win of the season.

Tonight at Central Park Navy will attempt to get out of their doldrums when they meet Butler's Aces. Game time is 6:45.

Short score follows:
Chinese Students 6 100 021 01-4 15 4
Cap. C. Gasmen 5 100 020 00-5 10 4
Butler Bros. Area 111 and Chow, Gasmen; Wins (9) and Wilson.
Chinese Students 10 2 9 20
Capital City Gasmen 5 3 2 13

Foul Bay will be out to extend its unbeaten streak to four straight games.

FOUR FOR FOUR

Tribe-Tigers In Straight Player Trade

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland Indians today made a four-for-four player swap with Detroit Tigers, giving up shortstop Ray Boone and three pitchers for pitchers Art Houtteman and Bill Wright, catcher Joe Ginsberg and second baseman Owen Friend.

The three pitchers the Indians sent to the last-place Tigers in what the Tribe's front office called "a straight player trade," were veteran Steve Gromek, rookie southpaw Al Aber and Dick Weisk-

North Kiwanis snapped Odd Fellows' winning streak at two games in the opener of the twin bill, edging them 3-2. Bob Edwards of Odd Fellows and Russ Ashworth of North Kiwanis hooked up in a strong mound duel, giving up six hits each. Ashworth failing to walk a man. Ashworth was backed up by glittering fielding by his infield, having three putouts and four assists with no errors.

John Balloch had two hits for North Kiwanis and Bill White batted in a run with a triple for Odd Fellows. The teams committed only one error each.

The second game, a 7-4 victory for Rotary over Gyros, was featured by the second home run of the season.

Ed Castner, hefty Rotary first baseman, parked one over the left-centre field wall with two men on in the third inning.

Gyro winning pitcher Jim Peters had a perfect day at the plate with three hits, including two doubles, in three tries.

Line scores follow:
Odd Fellows 100 200 000 00-0 10 4
North Kiwanis 3 10 0 20
Gyros 7 100 000 00-0 10 4
Rotary 4 100 000 00-0 10 4
Jim McCaig, Roger Pearson (4) and Ed Castner, Jack Imrey (4); Jim Peters and Ricky Watson.

WINS STRETCH DUEL IN BELMONT

Dancer Real Champion

NEW YORK (AP)—Native Dancer, Alfred Vanderbilt's exciting grey galloper, won the $18,600 Belmont Stakes Saturday and clinched the three-year-old championship of 1953.

In a terrific stretch run at Belmont Park, he caught and defeated Jamie K. by a neck, triumphing by the same margin over the same course as in Preakness last month.

"He proved himself to any doubt with me that he was a champion," said Bill Winfrey, who trains the grey son of Polynesia.

"Next comes the Dwyer, then to Chicago for the Arlington Classic," Winfrey said.

The Dwyer is a mile-and-one-quarter race for $50,000 at Aqueduct July 4, while the Classic is a one-mile affair carrying $100,000 in added money.

Only six horses went postward in the 1 1/4-mile Belmont Saturday, and it was a two-horse duel between the Dancer and Jamie K., a duplicate finish of the Preakness May 23.

However, there was a difference. In the Preakness Native Dancer was leading in the stretch and Jamie K. Belmont caught him. In the others, Eddie Arcazo put Jamie K. into the lead on the final turn after the pace-setting Ram o' War tired, but Eric Guerin aboard Native Dancer caught him in the run to the wire.

As usual, after taking the lead, the Dancer figured he'd done his job, and loafed a bit about a sixteenth of a mile

Always a strong supporter of the crippled kiddies' institution, Fulton is one of the many men of all walks of life working on the 1953 edition of the derby. Born in Belfast, Ireland, he came to Canada as a toddler. A transferman all his life, Fulton is manager of one of the city's biggest transfer concerns. He worked with Harry Woolston in bossing the 1952 fishing event.

FARMERS STILL UNBEATEN

Cleaners Split In Senior Ball

Team positions in the Senior Amateur Baseball League remained unchanged after all teams had seen action, Page the Cleaner and Central Cartage twice, over the week-end.

Page the Cleaner downed Central Cartage, 15-7, in the first game of a double-header, and then lost the second to Eagles, 7-2.

Saturday night Farmer Construction pounced on Central Cartage for 18 runs while pitcher Eddie Corbett twirled a neat one-hitter and held the last-place club scoreless for an 18-0 verdict.

Cleaners had an easy time of it in the first game Sunday as righthander Jim Thompson fastballed his way to his first victory this season. Thompson gave up only six base hits while striking out 10 and walking seven.

Thompson's Andy George, who has hurled in every Central Cartage game, relieved starter Jack Jacob in the first inning and was reached for seven hits during the remainder of the seven-inning contest.

Cleaners ran into a stone wall in the second contest as Tom Foster, pitching his first complete game, gave up only three singles, two coming in the last inning.

WHIFFS 15
Foster was impressive allowing only two runs while striking out 15. He was

Nine Members of City Cricket Side Named

BY TONY BRISTOWE
First cricket news today is that nine of the XI which will represent Victoria in the first intercity match in Vancouver, July 1, have been picked.

Two more players and a twelfth man will be chosen nearer the date. So far it is scarcely possible to disagree with the selectors, and they will presumably fill the last two places with another opening bowler and a batsman.

In Saturday's games, Alcos forced a draw from Albions and Oak Bay beat Cowichan, who were below their usual strength.

After a slow start, Albions made a total of 155 all out at Beacon Hill Park. Eric Gladden was once more in a scoring mood, and his 92 included five sixes. He gave a hard return catch to the bowler early on but after this let-off, batted brilliantly. Once more the limitations of Albion's bowling were exposed when Alcos batted. Three wickets fell quickly for 15 runs, but Doug Day (25) and John Moss pushed the score along steadily to 50 before Day was out. Alcos (being nowhere in sight of a win) then set out for a draw, and Albions could not get them out, the final score being 76 for 9.

In the match between Oak Bay and Cowichan at Windsor Park, a fine crop of "shooters" materially assisted the bowlers to such an extent that a mere 83 runs were scored all afternoon—56 by Oak Bay and 27 by Cowichan. Parkins collected 29 of Oak Bay's total.

FIVE C'S BEATEN
Inco's continued their winning streak against Five C's on Sunday. Five C's scored 116 for nine declared in 2 1/4 hours (George Payne 53). Inco's started poorly, but were rescued by Peter Seale (74) and Jim Sherratt (22). Seale's innings was one of the best seen in Victoria this season, the ball being hit hard with the full face of the bat. With these two out, Inco's had to struggle, but got safely home with one wicket still in hand.

Yankies Win Again

Tyees Get Gladstone, Helbig; May Sell Taylor, Sign Pitcher

BY BILL WALKER

News and near news hovered about the Victoria Tyees today as they prepared to meet Calgary Stampede in the opening of a three-game series at Athletic Park tonight.

The glad tidings are that Grannv Gladstone and Dwayne Helbig are due in from Portland of the Coast League either today or Tuesday, Gladstone being on 24-hour recall from the Beavers. Both were with the Tyees last year. Gladstone leading the WIL in runs batted in.

The possibilities are that outfielder Gale Taylor may be sold to Vancouver Capilanos; pitcher Bill Wisneski may be optioned out; Herman Charles may be released, and a new pitcher may be acquired.

General manager Dewey Soriano of the Caps Saturday offered to purchase both Taylor and Lu Brannham from the Tyees. However, it is believed that Brannham will be retained. Negotiations were still proceeding on the possible sale of Taylor late today.

The pitcher whom the Tyees hope to sign is Pete Younie, a Vancouver youngster who started the present season with Lewiston. He played with Visalia in the California State League last year compiling a record of 13 wins and 12 defeats. The previous year he won 15 and lost 10.

Younie approached the Tyees with regard to employment. He played under Tyees manager Cec Garriott at Visalia in 1951.

Conjecture that Wisneski may be optioned is based on the fact that he has seen little action of late and as Hugh King, a righthander who played with Beaumont of the Texas League last year, has been signed and is expected to report early this week.

Acquisition of Gladstone, Helbig, King and Younie would put the Tyees over the 18-man WIL limit.

Game time tonight is 8.

Whip Tribe Twice; Braves Lead in NL

Unless Al Lopez is an incurable optimist, he could do worse than give his Cleveland Indians a little talk today—something like this:

"We've tried everything to beat those Yanks, but whatever we do, they manage to go on one better. When we streak, they put together a better streak. When we have the pitching, they manage to get the big blow to beat us. When we have the hitting, they outslug us. Let's concentrate on nailing down second place this year and give it another whirl in 1954."

Until a week ago, Lopez still talked pennant. But the clean sweep of the four-game series that ended with a double conquest 6-2 and 3-0 for the Yanks Sunday just about knocked the breath and hope out of the Tribe.

Casey Stengel and his swash-buckling Yankees have games ahead of the Indians with the season not half over.

NEAR RECORD
The Yankees have won 18 games in a row, the third longest winning streak in American baseball.

In 1906, Chicago White Sox put together a string of 19 games, and the Yanks of 1947 duplicated the feat. Both won the pennant.

New York Giants of 1916 set the major league record of 26 straight victories.

The crowd of 74,708 saw Yankee catcher Yogi Berra knock in enough runs to win each game. In the opener Yogi hit a home run off Bob Lemon with two on in the eighth with his team behind 2-1.

In the second game he clouted a triple in the fourth with two more mates aboard.

Lemon lost the first, and Mike Garcia, who permitted only seven hits, was the nightcap victim. Johnny Sain, Bob Kuzava and Allie Reynolds all saw service for the Yanks in the first game. Kuzava was the winner. Vic Raschi tossed a three-hit shutout in the second contest.

BROWNS ON STREAK, TOO
On the subject of streaks, St. Louis Browns lost their 14th straight when they took a twin shellacking from Philadelphia Athletics 4-1 and 3-1. This equalled the Browns' longest losing streak which, the 1940 club ran up and is only six short of the American League record of 20 set by Boston Red Sox of 1906 and the Athletics of '36 and '43.

Hogan Greatest Of All Golfers?

Captures Fourth U.S. Open; Only British Title Remains

By OSCAR FRALEY
OAKMONT, Pa. (UP)—Ben Hogan stood one victory away today from universal recognition as the greatest golfer of all time.

Win or lose in his first crack at the British open late this month, the tiny Texan already had a solid hold on such a claim after scoring his fourth U.S. open victory within an injury-interrupted span of six years.

But if he wins the British open, too, the stubborn old guard finally will have to move the phenomenal little man up ahead of such storied heroes as Bobby Jones, Harry Vardon and Walter Hagen.

There was unprecedented claim for Hogan even from his fellow pros after he fought off another of Sammy Snead's ill-fated bids to win the open at Oakmont Saturday. His total of 283 was five strokes under par and set a new record for 72 holes.

RUNAWAY FINISH

It was even more fantastic, his runaway six-stroke edge over the second-place Snead, only one stroke ahead of slamin' Sam with six holes to go. It was no contest. Hogan finished as he blasted out birdies on the last two holes to really wrap it up.

Such pros as Gene Sarazen, Cuy Middlecott and even Lawson Little, who long has been one of the Jones' contingent, immediately proclaimed Ben as the best.

"How could there ever have been anybody better?" demanded Sarazen, who himself ranks as one of the all-time finest.

Verley Takes Medal Honors

Gordon Verley fired a hot 72 Sunday to rate as medalist in the qualifying round of the Victoria Golf Club men's championship.

Verley had to be sharp to win medal honors in the close round as Dr. George Bigelow and youthful Einar Brynjolfsson forced him all the way, tying for runner-up position with 101.

Verley's score was 69-72-72-72, 283. Bigelow and Brynjolfsson were 70-73-73-73, 289.

Verley's victory was a surprise, as he is a newcomer to the club. He has been playing golf for about five years and has been a member of the club for about a year.

Coffee Nine Stops Fosters

Mary's Coffee Bar stopped the upward surge of Joe Foster's towards first place in the Senior B Softball League Sunday when they whipped Fosters 7-1 at Heywood Avenue.

Mark Cunningham tossed a six-hitter for the victory, losing his shutout on Grant McGee's home run. George Goodwell pumped a homer for the winners.

The loss prevented Fosters from moving into a first-place tie with Tillicums. Fosters beat Tillicums Saturday night, 11-9 after equating an improved Grand Slam squad 9-6 Friday night.

Tillicums in Twin Victory

Tillicums of the Senior B Softball League scored a double victory Sunday in an exhibition road trip to Nanaimo.

The local league leaders trimmed Nanaimo Brechins, John Oliver pitching a two-hitter in the first game as Tillicums won 10-1 and Ellis Achten going the route in the second game for an 8-3 victory.

The clubs will play a return doubleheader in Victoria July 1.

Marciano to Meet Moore-Maxim Winner

OGDEN, Utah (AP)—The winner of the June 24 light-heavyweight title bout between champion Alvin Moore of St. Louis and former champ Joey Maxim of Cleveland will meet heavyweights Rocky Marciano in a Utah bout in 1954, the International Boxing Club said Saturday.

Copromoter Al Warden said news of the Marciano bout with the winner of the Moore-Maxim fight was received in a wire from Jim Norris, IBC president, in New York.

Al Weill, Moore's manager, also confirmed the news, but gave no details except that the fight would be held next summer in Utah.

Moore and Maxim will begin their final week of training Monday. They received the news of the Marciano opportunity with open arms.

Moore said, "I'd like nothing better than to get Marciano in the ring. I'm confident I have the tools to beat him. Secondly, it could make a fine payday in Utah."

Maxim had this to say: "I'm elated at the chance to meet Marciano. My first nudge is Moore, and after I've trimmed him they can bring on Marciano."

Vics Lose Game Regain Milligan

St. Andrews 2, United 1
Victoria United had both a profitable and costly soccer match Saturday night at Macdonald Park.

On the credit side of the ledger, they regained the services of centre forward Wally Milligan, who set aside his retirement plans and indicated he would stay with the club through any future cup competition until the end of the season.

But on the debit side, United lost the services of speedy winger Cedric Robb, who received a fractured jaw. And they also lost the replay of an Anderson Cup tie with St. Andrews, 2-1.

The game was the first Coast League action for United since April 25. The long layoff was evident in United's shooting as they had more than a share of ball control.

Milligan and Robb, two of the steady players on the field for the home side, outfoxed the Scot defense for the first time.

At the 10-minute mark, Robb took Milligan's pass, outran the defenders and passed under George Wright into the goal. The rookie making no mistake in finding the net.

SWEEP SERIES WITH CHIEFS

Broncs Increase Lead Over Caps

Lewiston Broncs, league leaders since opening day, continued to set the pace in the Western International Baseball League today after winning three more games over the week-end.

The Idaho club now leads Vancouver by 3 1/2 games.

The Broncs nipped Wenatchee's spirited drive for a first-division berth by sweeping their three-game series at Wenatchee. Lewiston won Saturday's contest, 6-2, then added two more Sunday, winning the first game 5-4 in seven innings and copping the nightcap 9-6 in 10 innings.

The doubleheader was one of two played in the league Sunday. In the other Spokane and Yakima broke even at Yakima, with Bears winning the first 6-0 on Howard Flinn's three-hitter, and Spokane taking the second game 3-1 in seven innings.

Saturday's action saw Ed... defeated the Senators 3-2 in 11...

Liverpool Held to Tie By Swiss Soccer Side

NEW YORK (AP)—The Liverpool Football Club of England and the Young Boys of Bern, Switzerland, played to a 1-1 deadlock in their international soccer contest before 11,085 at Yankee Stadium Sunday.

The Liverpool team closed its 10-game tour with a record of nine victories and one tie. The Young Boys were unbeaten and unscored on in three contests before Sunday's game.

Garrison Gunners Back From Mainland War Game

Garrison of 119 and 129 Batteries brought their big weapons back to Victoria Sunday and today, mainland exercises completed.

Two Victoria-based anti-aircraft batteries of the Canadian Army active force, 119 and 129, are due to return here Sunday and Monday, respectively, from a two-week training exercise in Vancouver, the army announced today.

The units have been taking part in exercise "Thunderbird," a training scheme designed to test the West Coast defences and provide a period of simulated war conditions and training.

During the exercise period the two batteries were subject to mock "enemy" attack. The attacks were made by high flying aircraft of the RCAF and U.S. air force.

First battery to make the move home to Vancouver Island will be 119. The unit will leave its gunsites early Sunday morning and embark by barge for Nanaimo.

From Nanaimo the battery will travel to Work Point barracks by road and is expected there Sunday afternoon. Men of 129 battery will repeat the schedule 24 hours later and expect to be back on permanent quarters at Gordon Head by Monday afternoon.

Dr. Whitehouse Elected Theological President

Dr. A. E. Whitehouse of Vancouver, who was for many years minister at Metropolitan United Church here, has been elected president of Pacific Coast Theological Conference, which concluded its 30th annual session last week in Seattle. Ministers from Washington, Oregon and British Columbia met in Pilgrim Congregational Church for three days of lectures.

Rev. G. Hedley, chaplain of Mills College, Oakland, was the principal lecturer, assisted by Right Rev. Stephen F. Bayne, Bishop of Olympia; Dr. Whitehouse and Canon A. E. Rendy of Nanaimo.

Divided Korea Dangerous Says U.S. Leader

Sen. Knowland Claims Red Policy Unchanged

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Sen. William F. Knowland, acting senate majority leader, said today a peace that left Korea divided would be "unsatisfactory."

The California Republican said the United States should demand at the forthcoming U.S.-British-French talks at Bermuda that Korea be united before the three powers begin any cold war conferences with the U.S.S.R.

Knowland evidently referred to final peace terms and not an armistice. He has already urged the South Korean government to accept an armistice without unification.

Knowland, who spoke Sunday before more than 5,000 people at the annual commencement exercises of the Stanford University, said Americans should have no "illusions" that a cease-fire in Korea would bring world peace.

"I have seen nothing in the actions of the Soviet Union," he said, "that the Republic has changed his spots."

"The Soviet long-term policy is to divide the world into blocs of the last 10 or 20 years—that their way of life and ours cannot exist simultaneously."

The California senator said America should tell its allies that "we won't sit down with Mr. Malenkov or other representatives of the Soviet Union" until unification is achieved.

"A divided Korea means eventually either a Communist Korea or the necessity of underwriting the Korean Republic from an economic point of view," he said.

Two Island Men Given Degrees at Stanford

Two Vancouver Island men were among those receiving degrees from Stanford University at annual commencement exercises over the weekend.

Aubrey Gordon Hill of Victoria received his master's degree in business administration. Hassel Charles Scheldrup of Courtenay was given a doctorate in mechanical engineering.

The commencement address was delivered by Sir Percy C. Spender, Australian ambassador to the U.S.

MARGARET AND DIVORCEE? U.K. Paper Asks Denial of Stories

LONDON (BUP)—A London newspaper put it up to the Royal Family today to confirm or deny published reports of a romance between Princess Margaret and the Queen's equerry, a divorced airman.

The mass-circulation Sunday paper, "The People," called the reports "scandalous" and "untrue" in demanding an official denial from Buckingham Palace.

"It is high time for the British public to be made aware of the fact that scandalous rumors about Princess Margaret are racing around the world," the newspaper said.

"Newspapers in both Europe and America are openly asserting that the princess is in love with a divorced man and that she wishes to marry him."

"Every newspaper which has printed the story names the man as Group Capt. Peter Townsend, formerly deputy master of the household. He is 38."

"The story, of course, is utterly untrue. It is quite untrue."

Thinkable that a royal princess, third in line of succession to the throne, should even contemplate a marriage with a man who has been through the divorce courts.

Townsend was described by "The People" as the "innocent" party in divorce proceedings against his wife Rosemary on the ground of adultery.

"But his innocence cannot alter the fact that a marriage between Princess Margaret and himself would fly in the face of royal and Christian tradition," the newspaper said.

"The People" sought confirmation of its statement that relationship between Margaret and Townsend is that which is "customary between a member of the Royal Family and a devoted servant."

Cathedral Choir On CBU Program Thursday Night

Ann Van der Voort will be accompanist.

COLD WEATHER TIP

LONDON (CP)—Reports received here claim the British Everest expedition wore lipstick during the worst part of the climb. The climbers found the lipstick, a clear red shade, was the best means of guarding against lips being chapped by cold and wind.

Irish Edged By Liverpool

TORONTO (BUP)—A disappointing crowd of 12,162 soccer fans, half the number expected, watched Liverpool of the English League down the Irish International 3-1 in an exhibition match Saturday night.

Liverpool waited 30 minutes for Kevin Baron to score his first goal, added another 10 minutes later by Sammy Smyth. The Irish scored twice in the second half with a tally by Eddie McMorran, but Liverpool clinched it almost at games end.

Referee: J. J. O'Brien. Attendance: 12,162. Time: 1:43 4-5.

Score: Liverpool 3, Irish 1.

Goals: Kevin Baron (10 min), Sammy Smyth (20 min), Eddie McMorran (75 min).

Old B.C. Family Mourns Passing of Mrs. B. B. Temple

Funeral services for a member of a prominent Victoria family, Mrs. Sara Temple, 93, widow of B. B. Temple, who died on June 11 in Vancouver, were held today in St. Saviour's Church.

Born in England, Mrs. Temple came here in 1892. She was a chartered member of the Daughters of England and a long-time member of St. Saviour's Church. Her husband predeceased her in 1946.

Mrs. Temple moved to Vancouver shortly after her husband's death.

She is survived by two sons, Guy T. of Vancouver and Thomas A. of Nelson; two grandchildren, Major J. B. Temple and Alan Temple of Vancouver, and one great-grandchild.

Architect's drawing of new Nanaimo-Vancouver train ferry.

Nanaimo Train Ferry Will Cost $4,000,000

CPR Announces Contract Award For Vessel Due on Run in 1955

A contract has been let for the construction of a $4,000,000 twin-screw diesel train ferry for service between Vancouver and Nanaimo, William Monson, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway's Pacific Region announced today.

The contract went to Alexander Stephen and Sons Ltd., Vancouver.

The new ship is expected to go into service in May, 1955. The 7,000-ton vessel will have an overall length of 416 feet, a molded beam of 63 feet and a loaded draught of 14 feet nine inches. It will be powered by four diesel engines burning bunker "B" oil and developing a total of approximately 5,400 shaft horsepower.

She will attain a speed of 15½ knots and will be capable of three round-trips each day on the short run across the Strait of Georgia.

Carrying 800 passengers and 28 railway cars or 110 to 120 automobiles or trucks or the combination of both, the train ferry will replace the present tug and barge operation.

When the new ferry is in service, a much improved service will be offered because railway cars and motor trucks will be loaded and unloaded through end doors located at the stern, and new shore facilities are being provided at each end of the run so that traffic will be handled under all weather and tide conditions.

"It had been hoped the ship could be built in this country," Mr. Monson said, "but after most careful consideration of all aspects of the tenders received from firms here and from those in the United Kingdom, it was found the disparity in cost was so great as to necessitate the decision as outlined."

TWO VICTORIANS AMONG VETS RETURNING FROM KOREAN WAR

Two soldiers from Victoria, one from Royal Oak and three from other island points, are among a draft of 325 Canadian soldiers due in Seattle Wednesday on a troopship from the Korean front.

The islanders are: Tpr. C. D. T. (Pete) Donald, RCAC, of 1960 Ernest; Tpr. F. G. H. Bull, RCAC, of 2720 Fifth; Pte. A. J. (Pat) MacFarlane, RCAC, of 1960 Ernest; Pte. R. F. Fraser, RCAC, 727 Watson, Duncan, and Cpl. F. J. B. Hooper, RCAMC, 11 Acadia Avenue, Nanaimo.

Most of the draft is made up of B Squadron, Lord Strathcona Horse (Royal Canadian Armoured Corps), the armoured regiment of the Canadian Army.

B.C. men will travel to No. 11 Personnel Depot, Vancouver, aboard special buses where they will go through final processing and depart for their homes on 60 days' leave.

Investment House to Take Old Yates Street Shop Site

An old Yates Street building, home of men's clothing firms since 1900, soon is to be completely remodelled as a modern office building for Hagar Investments Ltd.

At present occupied by Price and Smith Ltd., the new tenants will take over the entire building.

Mr. Price said today his firm's future plans are not certain. The history of clothing firms occupying the building since Klondike gold rush days starts with the B. Williams Company in 1900 followed by the J. A. Harvey Company in 1911 and Price & Smith in 1924.

Recalling earlier days in the retail store operation, Mr. Price refers to 11 p.m. closing as not unusual.

In those days too, Price & Smith recall that every man wore a hat or cap, and that department was one of the big sections of the store.

It is not known what plans have been made for the premises now occupied by Hagar Investments Ltd. at View and Broad Streets.

Top Accountants Meet Here

British, American and Mexican presidents of the Institutes of Chartered Accountants will come to Victoria for the annual convention of the Canadian Institute Sept. 4-10.

More than 600 delegates and wives are expected to attend. It will be the first time the national group has met in Victoria and the first time on the coast since 1947 when the convention was held in Vancouver.

Girls' Drill Team On Portland Visit Wins High Regard

Victoria Girls' Drill team looked "magnificent" in the big parade of the Portland Rose Festival Saturday, Mayor Claude Harrison said today.

The team got lots of applause and Capt. Norman Foster did a grand job, he added.

Even rain failed to mar the parade which, contained rose floats "that beggars description," according to Mayor Harrison.

The mayor himself was honored at the big civic auditorium when thousands saw him made a Knight of the Rose, in company with the mayor of Pasadena.

Society Complains of Missed Historic Dates

The lack of any reference in the press to St. George's Day or of Shakespeare's birthday, April 23, was criticized by members of the Royal Society of St. George at their quarterly meeting recently.

Minutes of the meeting point out "that there should be some editorial reference to this important day, in keeping with its importance."

New officers were elected. They include K. C. Symons, president; Harry Langley, vice-president; Mrs. Bertha Parsons, secretary; and H. H. Hollins, treasurer. Executive committee includes R. P. Parnell, G. W. Dea, Mrs. L. M. Lovatt, Mrs. A. B. Chilton, Mrs. E. O. Norton, Mrs. E. Elsie Thomson, G. Oliver, Mrs. B. G. Ruddock and Mrs. S. Weeks.

Boost Peace Price, Professor Advises

Time for Harder Bargaining Here, Bankers Advised

By DON INGHAM

The time to put the pressure on Communists is when they want peace, according to Prof. George E. Taylor, director of the Far East and Russian Institute at the University of Washington.

"This is the time to drive the price higher, drag out the negotiations, make it so difficult that acceptance will be an obvious victory for us," he said of the Korean truce talks.

Speaking at the annual convention of the Washington Bankers' Association at the Empress Hotel, Prof. Taylor said it was necessary to keep fighting during Korean talks.

"Communist China needs a truce," he said. "After three years of taking over the country, the Communists are scraping the bottom of the barrel. Production is not what it should be, they have decimated their business leadership, and have made enemies of Chinese everywhere outside China."

"Their economic difficulties are considerable," he said.

CHINA IMPORTANCE

He pointed out that China is the only country in the Russian orbit that can drag the U.S.S.R. into a world conflict, and that Russia is vitally interested in seeing that the Chinese do not become "too ambitious" at this time.

"In my view, now is the time to blockade China, and devise every form of pressure we can think of to make it impossible for Communists to carry out their objectives, which is the conquest of all Asia," he said.

Prof. Taylor praised the Eisenhower administration for viewing the Far East as one problem, and therefore requiring one over-all strategy. That strategy, he said, is to tie the Communists down in Korea, support the French in their conflict in Indo-China, and build up Chiang Kai-Shek for use in blockading Chinese ports.

"This would not succeed without a second line of defense—Asiatic national armies that are well-trained and ready to protect their political independence," he said.

TO KILL ALLIANCE

The Korean truce move was designed to prevent just what the Communists fear in Europe—the birth of a military and political alliance with the western powers, Prof. Taylor said.

"When the chips are down, the United States and its allies have tended to treat other people better than have the Russians," he said. "They have angered the Czechs, and will make the Chinese just as angry. China has a captive nationalism, held by bayonets, that in the long run will be in our favor. They cannot stop—who rides the tiger can't get off."

Prof. Taylor said that in many undeveloped countries there is an atmosphere of suspicion toward the United States, whose job is to arrive at some political understanding and agreement with these areas.

"We must have the extreme nationalism of parts of Asia working with us," he said.

ECONOMIC ANGLE

In discussing background of the Korean conflict, Prof. Taylor said the present situation is part of the peace front "that is a cover for a campaign on the economic level."

ASK The TIMES

Q.—Did Victoria ever have a baseball team called the Bees?—S.E.

A.—Yes, in the Northwest League about 40 years ago.

Q.—Was the grassy plot known as Harris Green, in the centre of Pandora Avenue from Quadra to Chambers Street, designedly marked out or was it the result of a surveyor's error?—A.T.K.

A.—It is believed at the city hall it resulted from two separate surveys, perhaps decades apart, of east-west streets, one party working from the south, the other from the north. In the early days the instruments were less accurate than today. It is even possible one of the parties ran its lines by eye alone, thus the difference of the lines at the surveyor's meeting point.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be printed daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest.

Bankers Mix Golf With Business

Golf scores, mortgages were discussed in all corners of Empress Hotel lobby today as Washington Bankers' Association opened 57th annual convention here. In group above are, from left, James E. Phillips, Port Angeles; M. R. Ebner, Pullman; J. Willard Maxwell, Seattle.

Most bankers' wives set off on shopping spree today after 10.30 a.m. "brunch" at Empress. Mrs. J. W. Langley, however attended morning business session with her husband, Sumas banker.

Wives Do Spending Here As Bankers Hold Parley

Upwards of 360 members of the Washington Bankers' Association avoided money matters almost entirely today as they opened their 57th annual convention in the Empress Hotel.

Their wives will do the spending, according to one official of the state-wide group.

"The exchange barriers are down," said Lylal L. Stringham, vice-president, in responding to a welcome from Mayor Claude Harrison. "Now that you recognize our dollars, our wives will see that plenty of them are passed around."

The convention, one of the association's largest in recent years, opened its session Sunday with a tea and past-presidents' dinner, but got down to serious business today with addresses by Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America (see Business Capsule, Page 7), and Prof. George E. Taylor of the University of Washington.

Mr. Joyce, who called police, was able to furnish a description of the prowler as well as the evidence of his visit.

Wardens, rescue teams and first aid workers will carry out realistic exercises in various parts of the city Saturday. You should make your drill realistic too.

The alert period will last 15 minutes. Give this time to civil defense. It could be the most important 15 minutes of your life.

Rev. William Hills will be guest speaker at a banquet Tuesday night to conclude the convention.

In welcoming the bankers, Mayor Harrison said: "It is important for people like you to talk things over regularly."

There is no line at the border, and we appreciate coming here," Mr. Stringham said. "We think the work and objectives of Canadian bankers are similar to ours, and we agree on all things."

Association officers are E. G. Startup, president; of Everett; A. L. Ganson, executive secretary, of Seattle; Alvin E. Kelly, Republic, treasurer; and Mr. Stringham.

Convention chairman is Robert D. Keith, Seattle.

Extent of their participation is not yet known. Initial plans did not call for activity of these groups because they are volunteers. City fire-fighters are slated to carry out drills in the wharf area.

The Motor Vehicle and Douglas Building workers will proceed to prepared basement shelters, and in the BCHS offices and the Weiler Building CD workers will assume emergency posts.

An "incident" has been planned for the provincial health offices in the west wing of the Legislative Buildings. There, employees will be "trapped" in the basement and will be effected through windows.

Langford, Colwood and View Royal fire departments disclosed today that they, too, will take part in the widespread defense exercise.

Gratified Chamber Reports Crowds at Sunset Ceremonies

As many as 2,000 persons have been turning out to witness flag-lowering ceremonies on Parliament Building lawns, the Victoria Chamber of Commerce said today.

Tourists and residents both are thrilled by the ceremonial, according to chamber observers.

Most compliments are directed to smart appearance of eight military and naval units involved, all of which are acting without recompense, officials added.

They turn out every night but Sunday.

Tonight's ceremony will be conducted by the 75th H.A. Regiment RCA (RF) with band in attendance. The sunset observance is set for 9 p.m.

Gasoline Thieves Smash Pump Locks

About 49 gallons of gasoline were stolen from pumps at the Midland Construction Co., 321 John, broken into during the week-end, city police reported.

It was the second time in a week the pumps have been raided.

Padlocks were forced off the pumps to get the fuel. Also entered was the office of the firm. A sliding window on the south side of the building was smashed.

Detectives said this could have been a separate entry not connected with the gas thieves.

SUMMER JOBS SCARCE

Job-Hunting Students Face Crowded Markets

The summer job situation for high school students now leaving school is bad, the National Employment Service reports.

"There are not a great many opportunities for young people," Charles A. Mudge, head of the employment service, said today. "A few students have already begun to register here but there is not much in sight for them."

The construction industry, which usually takes a good many of the students, is not looking for as many as usual. University men have been finding employment, Mr. Mudge said, but most of them must leave the city to get good paying jobs.

There is little demand for girl workers here but a few of them will find employment as clerks and waitresses.

Of the high school students who will seek permanent employment after graduation, most will find or have found jobs. Girls trained as stenographers will find jobs readily.

B.C. Civil Servants Want Demands Aired

Executive of the B.C. Government Employees' Association will meet in Vancouver next Monday to lay plans for renewing its demands for a five-day week and arbitration rights.

The civil servants are expected to ask for an immediate hearing before the provincial cabinet.

Their requests were not granted earlier in the year, government spokesmen said, because the minority government was too busy preparing for the session of the Legislature.

Civil Defense Names Island Co-Ordinator

Harold Snider of Wellington has been appointed civil defense co-ordinator for the Vancouver Island Mobile Support and Reception Area.

His salary will be $150 monthly, plus $50 allowance for traveling expenses.

The appointment was approved by order-in-council Friday.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Fish Food Fertilizer
Makes Animals Scamper

By PENNY SAVER

There's something fishy about this! (Not in price and value, of course! The dealers would shoot me on sight if I led you to believe that!) It's a liquid fertilizer, made 100 per cent from organic fish material... the only fertilizer obtainable that can boast a dog and cat repellent! Not one case of an animal digging up a plant that's been fed on it has been reported. Oil has been removed, eliminating root coating or oil building up in your soil. I wonder what it smells like? Oh, yes! It says right there on the bottle... deodorized! That's for me! Large bottle is $1.60, medium size is 95 cents and small is 65 cents.

Ever used a shampoo shade? It is a "halo" sort of affair, designed to prevent soapy water from running into the eyes. Made from plastic, it's elasticized to fit snugly. In blue, green, yellow and rose shades. The price is 49 cents.

Oops! Here we go again! It's the creative streak in me... I've got the urge to paint, now! Just the thing for amateur artists who enjoy "dabbling" is a complete outfit that contains everything needed to paint an oil picture. No need to wonder what to buy, now! If you are like me and don't know where to begin, get this set, for when you match the numbered tube of pre-mixed paint with the same numbered area on the canvas, you create a beautiful painting in full color!

Kit contains one 12x12-inch pre-drawn canvas, ready-mixed oil colors and one brush. Take your choice of the following subjects: Snow Scene, Bridge, Swiss Village, Poppies, Bowl of Pansies, Columbia Jays, Canal Boat, Waggon Train West, St. Bernard Dogs, Quiet Waters, Palomino Thoroughbred Horse at Gallop, etc. Price of kit is $1.75.

Here's some jeans the youngsters won't wear out in a hurry! They're made of denim with nylon, and have twice the wear of ordinary denim. Rightly made with triple-stitched main seams, they cost $3.50 a pair. Shrink-resistant, they come in sizes 8 to 18.

Fine English marmalade in 12-ounce re-usable pottery containers is $1.10... In a chintz pattern or various old English scenes.

AS WE LIVE

'Know-It-All' Must Learn the Hard Way

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

Some people think they know all the answers. They resent having anyone offer suggestions or advice of any kind. How to handle such people, asks this woman:

Hurlock: But with your daughter it is a different story. She is too young to become set in her ways. If she doesn't change before it is too late, she will make herself and everyone else unhappy.

Obviously some of her trouble is imitation of her father. She feels that what he does is right and she is copying him. The only way you can convince her that this "know-it-all" attitude is bad is to let her suffer the consequences of her stubbornness.

Instead of telling your daughter what to do or what not to do, or instead of advising her when she does not ask for advice, let her do things her own way. If they work out successfully, well and good. If they don't, she will have no one to blame but herself.

Don't get into arguments with your husband and daughter. Let them do what they wish so long as it does not hurt you or other people. If they want to hurt themselves or get into trouble that is their business. When people think they know it all the best thing is to let them find out for themselves that they don't.

If you have a personal problem, write Elizabeth Hurlock in care of this newspaper.

Saturday Bride Showered

Miss Frances Bartlett, whose marriage takes place next Saturday, was guest of honor at a recent shower given by Mrs. Kay Gallop, Miss Marlene Earle and Mrs. Gwen Jones at the home of the latter, 78 Crease Avenue. Miscellaneous gifts were presented to the bride-elect in a blue and white decorated umbrella and she also received a corsage of roses. Her mother, Mrs. C. Bartlett, and grandmother, Mrs. Doncaster, had corsages of carnations.

Invited guests were Mrs. Doris Washington, Mrs. Lorraine Van Slyke, Mrs. Barbara Dalziel, Mrs. Marlene Pishko, Mrs. Shirley Gallop, Mrs. Rogers and Misses Lorna Ritchie, Catherine Kennedy, Barbara Wilby, June Drage, Wilda Noel, Sylvia Tovey, Vivian Bartlett and the little niece of the bride, Marilyn Peppin.

Going to Vancouver this week to attend the Canadian Hotel Association convention is Mrs. Norma MacDonald, who will report on the recent International Hotel Congress held in Lucerne, Switzerland. Mr. and Mrs. John Dunbar and Miss Frances Jordan will also attend the Vancouver convention.

Sister Matron of Honor Bride's Sole Attendant

Her sister as matron of honor was the only attendant for Lenora Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Waring, Queen's Avenue. Saturday evening when she became the bride of Frank Arthur Clapp, Victoria, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Clapp, Westview, B.C. — St. John's Anglican Church was scene of the ceremony, performed by Canon George Biddle.

The bride chose a ballerina-length gown in traditional white, the flared skirt of tulle and the bodice of lace having a sweetheart neckline, stand up collar and short sleeves. With it she wore elbow-length mitts and a rhinestone necklace, gift of the groom, and a chapel veil of net edged with lace. Her flowers were pink roses and white sweet peas in a colonial bouquet. Mr. Waring gave his daughter in marriage.

Mrs. Bernice Ritchie was gowning in pale yellow tulle, matching mitts, a headress of matching pastel sweet peas and pale yellow feathered carnations.

Among out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clapp, Westview, Mr. and Mrs. J. Curnow, Miss Dene Curnow, West Vancouver, and Mr. and Mrs. D. Wolfe, Vancouver.

Honor Co-Workers at Party

The office staff of the child welfare division held a surprise party recently to honor two staff members, Miss Louise Smale, a bride-elect of this month, and Mrs. Helen Chantler, who is resigning from the staff. The affair was held at the home of Miss Helen Dewar who, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hardie Dewar, received the guests. Two former staff members, Mrs. Jean Cooke and Mrs. Jean Jones, were also present. Miss Smale was literally showered with gifts from an umbrella decorated with pink and white streamers. Later in the evening, Mrs. Margaret Stevens, on behalf of the stenographers of whom Mrs. Chantler was a member, made a presentation to her

Empress Supper Dance

Smart stripes and halter necks vied with strapless ballerina frocks and net over taffeta creations at Empress Hotel supper dance Saturday night.

Feminine dancers chose gowns—floor and street-length in every hue and fabric from the casual to the frothy, to add a note of pre-summer gaiety, as they whirled to the strains of Billy Tickle's Empress Hotel Orchestra.

Old favorites from "Sydney" to "Some Enchanted Evening" and "I Don't Know Why I Love You" took their place on the program with such popular new tunes as the "Theme From Moulin Rouge."

Birthdays and anniversaries were occasions for several parties with Mr. Tickle playing request numbers.

A birthday party, complete with cake and lighted candles, was held in honor of Miss Mae Craig, who was in a party of 10 with Mr. Art Nugent. Others in the group were Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Getson, Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carr and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Saville.

The Getsons entertained the party at their 1561 Oakcrest Drive home both before and after the dance.

The orchestra played "It's Later Than You Think" for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Savage who were celebrating their 18th wedding anniversary with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cullimore.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brayshaw celebrated their 9th wedding anniversary, and Mrs. Brayshaw's birthday with Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Thomson and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Zaluski.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Peterson were among those entertaining out-of-town guests. Noted among the dancers were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Corbett, Miss Cathy Allen and Mr. Stan Williams, Mr. and Mrs. P. Ranson. In another party were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wormald with Lt. Cmdr. Bill Patton and Mrs. Patton.

Making reservations for four were B. B. Frankling, Wilfred McKenzie, S. Clarke, W. Sutton and W. Buffington. With reservations for six were E. Svannah, M. G. Brown, W. Dunbar, M. Hill and R. W. Wilkinson. Among larger parties was that of H. E. Hobson, who made reservations for 10.

Langford Anniversary Party

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. J. Austin Yates, Millstream Road, Langford, on their 40th wedding anniversary, members of the at their home Saturday evening for a surprise party. A crimson elderdown quilt was presented to the honor couple with a corsage of Taisman roses for Mrs. Yates and a boutonniere for her husband. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Yates.

Later, the gathering adjourned to the new fire hall where community singing and dancing were enjoyed with Mr. A. Olson playing the piano-accordion, and Mrs. Olson, the piano. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Bayliss, Mr. and Mrs. John Able, Mr. and Mrs. E. Thow, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. McKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. A. Bewley, Mr. and Mrs. R. Carkow, Mr. and Mrs. K. Buxton, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Vender, Mr. and Mrs. R. Bayles, Mr. and Mrs. H. Knight, Mr. and Mrs. O. MacLeod, Mr. and Mrs. A. Olson, Mr. and Mrs. R. Limer, Mrs. C. Ferguson, Maple Bay, V.I.; Mrs. M. M. ### FESTIVAL PARADE

Millions of Flowers and Flower Petals in Floats

By KITTY DIXON

City of Portland was enveloped in fog and misted with an unceasing drizzle on the day of the Grand Floral Parade, climax of the Rose Festival. Dull weather didn't seem to spoil the show for either participants or onlookers, however, and the big event went off as scheduled.

Fifty-one floats in the two-and-one-half-hour display were drifting gardens of roses, peonies, delphiniums, carnations, stocks and lupin. Each was completely covered with natural flowers.

Theme of "Holidays" was carried out in the display floats depicting Mother's Day, Easter, Valentine's Day, Thanksgiving, Memorial Day, Halloween, Fourth of July, Washington's Birthday, the British Coronation and beach holidays.

One of the most beautiful was the Hollywood District float, "Rose Festival Day." Seventy thousand American Beauty roses were artistically worked into three giant roses in full bloom, the deep crimson of the flowers a striking contrast to the cream background.

Commercial sweetcake awning and went to a float with an Independence Day motif. . . . drummer, fife and drummer boy stood motionless on a wet blanket of daisies. Non-commercial award went to the Easter float of pink and white peonies formed into a giant hen brooding over white daisy eggs from which were hatching little girls with dainty umbrellas.

"Our Queen" were words on a large floral crown on the float carrying Queen Nancie of Rosaria, and her court.

Floats were spaced with uniformed bands, drill teams. . . . including our Victoria Girls Drill Team. . . . and drum corps. One of the most colorful units was the Chinese Girls Drum Corps of St. Mary's Mission, San Francisco, whose appearance in the festival was sponsored by the Portland Chinese Consolidated Benevolent Association. They wore imported costumes of dazzling red and yellow, studded with brilliant jewels.

We were a rather wet and bedraggled looking lot of girls by the time we reached the end of the parade after more than six miles of marching. . . . but a packed lunch was waiting for us and we soon perked up again.

The grass was soggy and the atmosphere damp. . . . but the drizzle had stopped. . . . when we performed at Multnomah Stadium that evening. . . . Later we were told we resembled peppermint candy sticks. . . . and we did get a big ovation from the large crowd.

Highlight. . . . and certainly the most thrilling event on the night's program was the national ski jump competition. The floodlit, 15-story jumping hill is the world's largest structure used for night ski jumping. . . . and on real snow. Construction materials required are 11 miles of steel tubing, 28,000 board feet of planking, 200 tons of granulated ice and three acres of chicken wire. The contestants. . . . from Canada, United States and Norway. . . . soared through space to land on the "snow" and finished with a grand flourish by skimming along the ground in a spray of hay. The hay placed on the ground to keep them from taking bad falls.

Doris Richardson, Arnold Hansen Exchange Vows

Marriage vows were repeated at St. John's Anglican Church recently, between a well-known Sooke couple, Doris Mae, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Richardson, Sooke Road, and Arnold Hansen, son of Mr. A. Hansen, Saseenos, and the late S. Hansen. Canon George Biddle performed the ceremony. Tall baskets of early summer flowers and white stocks were placed at the altar.

Entering the church with her father, the bride was radiant in a white gown of corded taffeta styled with full skirt en train. The bodice was lace with a net yoke and tiny scalloped collar, livy point sleeves and scalloped lace peplum. Misting to the tip of her train was a veil of illusion.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Cameron, pictured as they signed the register following their recent marriage in Oak Bay United Church are now honeymooning in Bermuda. Mrs. Cameron is the former Katherine Gwynneith Cowan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Evan S. Jones, and Mr. Cameron the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cameron, "Locheil," Runnymede Avenue.

Pete Hansen was his brother's best man, and Gerhard and Norman Hansen were ushers. Mrs. Richardson, wearing a blue tailored suit with pink accessories and corsage of taisman roses, assisted in receiving guests at a reception at Loughheed's Banquet Club. The refreshment table was centred with a three-tier cake topped with a miniature bride and groom, and vases of sweet-peas. P. J. Willway proposed the toast to the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Hansen left on a wedding trip to San Francisco, wearing a French blue tailored suit with navy and white accessories and corsage of taisman roses. Following their honeymoon the couple will make their home in Luxton.

Heirloom Brooch Worn by Bride At St. John's Anglican Church

An heirloom brooch of gold filigree set with rubies which had belonged to the bride's great-grandmother was worn by Beverly-Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Bradley, 3125 Qu'Appelle Street, for her marriage Saturday evening in St. John's Anglican Church, to Thomas John Wellburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wellburn, 3731 Winston Crescent.

The church was beautifully decorated with tall standard baskets of white gladioli and Ester Reed daisies and graduated candleabra bearing white tapers.

Organist, Frederic Chubb played wedding music and a solo, "The Lord's Prayer," was sung by Miss Eileen Rhodes. Ushering the guests to pews, marked with white gladioli tipped with white satin ribbons, were Bruce Walker and Ted Owens.

Entering the church with her father, the bride was radiant in a white gown of corded taffeta styled with full skirt en train. The bodice was lace with a net yoke and tiny scalloped collar, livy point sleeves and scalloped lace peplum. Misting to the tip of her train was a veil of illusion.

Church Work—Dr. F. E. H. James took prayers at meeting of the Victoria Young Women's United Church, and spoke briefly on summer and fall plans for work of the church.

Mrs. W. McCulloch, president, and Mrs. H. H. Kerley took devotionals. Plans were made for a picnic at Cordova Bay on July 16 and donations for bazaar and imaginary tea given. Tea was served by Miss L. Copthorne and Mrs. P. Edmonds.

263 Years Old—Members of Victoria—Purple Star Lodge, LOBA, drill team met at the home of Mr. E. Keatley, 597 Oliver Street, recently to complete arrangements for the team to participate in the 263rd anniversary celebrations of the Battle of the Boyne, to be held in New Westminster on July 11. The drill team will sponsor an old-time dance on June 26, in the Lake Hill-Institute Hall, Quadra Street.

She caught to her head with a small lace cap edged with white forget-me-nots. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Maxine Owens was matron of honor. Her dress was a strapless model of pink taffeta, worn with a tiny net cape which featured a stand-up collar. Matching mitts and a small taffeta cap trimmed with flowers completed the picture and she carried a bouquet of flame pink carnations and stephanotis. Miss Barbara Bradley and Miss Megan Jones were bridesmaids in turquoise dresses similarly styled to the matron of honor's. Pink carnations and stephanotis fashioned their bouquets. Flower girl was little Colleen Walton, wearing a full skirted pink taffeta dress with velvet ribbon sash and taffeta bonnet. She carried a nosegay of pink carnations and stephanotis. Robert Wright was best man.

Lounge of Oak Bay Beach Hotel was decorated with summer flowers for the reception. Mrs. Bradley in a corded silk suit-dress of French blue, with pink and navy model hat, navy accessories and pink rapture roses, and Mrs. Wellburn wearing a navy blue jacket dress, white straw hat, navy accessories and pink carnation corsage, assisted the young couple in receiving their guests.

The three-tier wedding cake, topped with a small cluster of pink and white roses, was made by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. F. Thomas. Surrounded with pink tulle, it was flanked with roses and tall pink candles. Wes Bremner proposed a toast to the bride.

A suit of Pervance blue worsted flannel worn with a navy stole was chosen by Mrs. Wellburn for a motoring trip up-Island and on the mainland. She complemented her ensemble with a small white and navy model hat, navy accessories and a double strand pearl choker, gift of the groom. Her corsage was gardenias. Following their honeymoon, the young couple will make their home in Victoria.

CAROL RICHIE'S
ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

MONDAY, JUNE 15, 1953

Aries (March 21 to April 19) Your family problems are observed by interesting individual who gives you subtle suggestions that will help you find intelligent solution, but you must be on the alert.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) You find release from present tensions through unexpected invitation that brings more joyful atmosphere to all about you. Enjoy yourself.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) Better understanding where mutual funds are concerned results from thrashing out muddled-up affairs with partner, getting them in better order. Take no chances where writings are involved.

Cancer (June 22 to July 21) You are allowing yourself to become so worried over money matters that you have time for those who look to you for love and affection. P.M. get out with friends, relatives.

Leo (July 22 to August 21) Deep concern which stems from your devotion to another can be alleviated by finding a way to help him or her.

Virgo (August 22 to September 21) Don't discuss worries in presence of others, but confide with him or her privately, giving sensible advice that raises spirits of all involved. P.M. have some recreation.

Libra (September 22 to October 21) Attack on you by disturbed executive is really caused by desire to get rid of pet anger. This is your chance to show understanding of this person's own personal hurts.

Scorpio (October 22 to November 21) Plan system of spending for bills, essential supplies and luxuries so that you do not drain yourself of funds.

Capricorn (December 22 to January 20) Be discreet. Fracas with associate shows need for careful scrutiny of present situation.

Aquarius (January 21 to February 19) It's all right to get away from regular duties if you use the time to confer with co-workers who can show you how to do your job better.

Pisces (February 20 to March 20) Before starting out on pleasure jaunt see that clothes and accessories are just right and that means of transportation is in good condition. Then good time is assured.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TUESDAY... Tuesday's child possesses such an abundance of charm that there will never be a lack of friends who will want to help him or her get ahead in life. The danger here is that your child will get into the habit of accepting favors too casually. It is most important for you to teach that what comes too easily cannot bring the satisfaction or happiness as that which is obtained through one's own striving.

Vodka in Toast

To Russia-Britain

PORTSMOUTH (Reuters) — Dr. Hewlett Johnson, the "Red" Dean of Canterbury, Sunday

downed a glass of vodka on the Russian cruiser Sverdlov, anchored near here for today's Coronation review.

It happened at a lunch given by the cruiser's commander, Capt. O. L. Dudakov.

"I hate the stuff," said the white-haired dean. "But it was drunk in a toast, proposed by Capt. Rudakov to the unity of Britain and Russia and in the cause of peace."

The 79-year-old dean wore the Stalin Peace Medal, awarded to him after years of pro-Soviet campaigning.

Don't Neglect Slipping FALSE TEETH

Do false teeth drop, slip or wobble when you talk, eat, laugh or sneeze? Don't be annoyed and embarrassed by such handicaps. FASTEETH, an alkali line (non-acid) powder to sprinkle on your plates, keeps false teeth more firmly set. Gives confident feeling of security and added comfort. No gummy, foamy, pasty taste or feeling. Get FASTEETH today at any drug store.

Here is a clean, stainless, penetrating antiseptic—known all over Canada as MOON'S EMERALD OIL—that dries right in and brings swift sure relief from the itching and discomfort.

Not only does this healing antiseptic oil promote rapid and healthy healing in open sores and wounds, but boils and simple ulcers are also relieved.

In skin afflictions the itching of Eczema is quickly relieved. Pimples—skin eruptions dry up and scale off in a very few days. The same is true of Salt Rheum, Itching Toes and Feet and many other itching skin afflictions.

MOON'S EMERALD OIL can be obtained in the original bottle at any modern drug store. Satisfaction or money back.

Murder Trial Ends

When Accused Said

Of Unsound Mind

FORT FRANCIS, Ont. (CP) — The trial of a Finnish immigrant charged with a double murder came to an abrupt end Saturday when the accused was declared of unsound mind and unfit to stand trial.

Two of the three psychiatrists reversed earlier decisions in the case of Nillo Karjalainen, 33, charged after a man and woman were shot through the doors of their cabins in a community north of Attikokan, Ont., April 7. Victims of the shooting were Mrs. Kauka Tuusa, 28, and Nesteri Ranninen, 31. Karjalainen was on trial for the Tuusa murder first.

The trial started Tuesday but was held up Thursday when questions by the defense lawyer failed to bring an intelligible reply from Karjalainen.

R. D. Lemmax, Native Son, Buried in Mainland City

Last rites for Robert D. Lemmax, chief inspector of factories for the B.C. government and a prominent native son, who died suddenly in Vancouver last week following a heart attack, were held Thursday in the mainland city.

Mr. Lemmax, 61, held a number of responsible posts in the civil service. His offices were located in Vancouver at the time of his death.

He was a member of the old First United Church, located at the corner of Pandora Avenue and Blanshard Street, and latterly of First United Church here.

Mr. Lemmax was a charter member of the Native Sons of Canada and was a past master of United Services Lodge No. 24, A.F. and A.M., Esquimalt. He was a Scottish Rite Mason and a Shriner.

Surviving are his wife in Vancouver and a sister, Miss Victoria E. Lemmax, well-known Victoria schoolteacher.

Rev. H. E. Parker conducted funeral services. Brother Masons acted as pallbearers. Interment was in the Masonic cemetery at Burnaby.

Little Chance Seen for SC Federally

Socreds Nothing East Of Alberta—Fulton

KAMLOOPS, B.C. (CP)—E. Davie Fulton, president of the B.C. Progressive Conservative Association, and Member of Parliament for Kamloops, said here Sunday that Social Credit hasn't a chance to succeed in the federal field.

Mr. Fulton was replying to a statement made in Vancouver Friday by Premier Bennett that Social Credit would sweep the province in the Aug. 10 federal election.

Social Credit is not a substantial factor anywhere east of Alberta, Mr. Fulton said. "It is a little surprising to find an organization (Social Credit) thus committed to a step which, if it were successful, would only duplicate in the federal field, the uncertainty and confusion which have for the last 12 months in the provincial field," he said.

"The country would be divided and could not speak with any certain voice," Mr. Fulton will seek re-election in the federal election.

Seven Attempts Are Enough Says 'Tiger' Tensing Norkay

BY PETER JACKSON
THYANGBOCHE MONAS-
TERY, Nepal (by Runner)
(Reuters)—The only two men ever to have conquered Mount Everest have told how they embraced each other on the icy summit and had a "good look" at the world below before descending 20 minutes
later.

Sitting relaxed and happy
in this snowbound refuge inhabited by Buddhist monks, Sir Edmund Percival Hillary,
the 33-year-old New Zealand
beekeeper knighted for his achievement, told me:

"I felt damn good at the top.
It was a beautiful day with a moderate wind. As we got there, my companion threw his arms around me and embraced me."

And the face of Sherpa guide Tensing Norkay, 39, who conquered the 29,000-foot
mountain with Hillary, May 29, creased into a winning smile.

"I was very happy and not particularly tired," he said.
The lean guide, known as the Himalayan "Tiger of the Snows," was asked if he would like to tackle the same assignment again.

"No, no, not again," he said.
"Seven attempts are enough.
But I would like to go to K2,
for I think it can be climbed."
K2—Mount Godwin Austen—
is the world's second highest peak at 28,250 feet. A United States expedition is making a bid this year to scale
it. The mountain is in the Karakoram range of the Himalayas in Pakistani territory.

Hillary said he plans to return to bee-farming in New Zealand after a visit to Britain with other members of the expedition.

"I'd like to come back to the Himalayas again," he said.

The tall, lean mountaineer
who served in the air force during the war, said he and his guide remained "about 20

HILLARY
... "I felt damned good."
minutes on the perfect summit.
"I took photographs of Ten-
sing holding a string of flags
of the United Nations, Britain,
Nepal and India," he said.

Hillary, who made four Himalayan expeditions in three years, said:
"The most impressive sight
was Lehotse—a 27,890-foot peak followed by Kancheenjunga 28,146 feet and we could see far out over Tibet."

Hillary said he found nothing at the summit to help solve the mysterious disappearance in 1924 of British climbers George Leigh Mallory and Andrew Irving.
They were last seen on the final ridge heading for the summit.

Hillary praised expedition
leader Col. John Hunt, who was also knighted by Queen Elizabeth. News of the triumph was flashed to London
on the eve of her Coronation
June 2.

"The whole thing was team effort and the success is mainly due to Col. Hunt," Hillary said.

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP)
—Col. John Hunt, leader of the British expedition that conquered Mount Everest

May 29, arrived here Saturday night and reported his party had found no trace of two daring Britons who disappeared near the icy summit
of the world's highest mountain in 1924.

Accompanied by two other members of his successful 16-man expedition, Hunt
chuckled with delight at seeing the bright electric lights
of this Nepalese capital after weeks spent in numbing cold
on the tortuous slopes of Everest, whose conquest earned him a knighthood
from the Queen.

Turning to his fellow adventurers—Thomas Bourdil-
lon and Alfred Gregory—
Hunt said: "Boys, how about seeing a motion picture?"

Hunt, 42, told reporters all members of his party are returning in good health and without injury.

In answer to questions,
Hunt said no signs were

TENSING
... "Seven times is enough."
found to solve the mystery
of whether two British climbers, George Mallory and Andrew Irvine, ever reached the top. Mallory and Irvine reached within a few hundred

feet of the summit in 1924,
then disappeared in the mists
and never were seen again.
A British expedition which failed in 1933 reported it had found some of the Mallory-Irvine equipment intact on the higher reaches. Hunt's team had hoped to find the bodies.

Earlier reports reaching here by native runners from Hunt's expedition said Ten-
sing fought his way to the summit first and then helped Hillary up over the final hump of ice and rock.

Victory over Everest, which has defeated 11 previous expeditions since 1921, was celebrated by the climbers with toasts from one brandy bottle, Gregory said. He added:
"We did not have more to celebrate better."

Gregory said he and Hunt
went up 27,500 feet and Bourdillon, a physicist, and Dr.
Charles Evans, a naval surgeon, climbed to within 500
feet of the summit.

Hunt said his party did not see the "abominable snowman" nor did they see any footprints. The snowman is a member of a legendary—perhaps a mythical—tribe
supposed to make things
tough for daring men who would scale Everest's forbidding summit. Last year's unsuccessful Swiss expedition
said one of its porters
claimed he had been attacked
by a "snowman" but none of the main party ever saw the strange character.

Hunt said that in April his party saw unidentified planes flying near Everest at great height and amidst clouds.
Nepalese government sources
have reported unidentified planes over the borders between Nepal and Tibet and said they believed the planes were taking off from newly-constructed airfields in Communist-controlled Tibet. Over-est lies on the border between the two countries.

Armistice Set
Despite Rhee

Agreement Within Next Few Days
UN Reported Ready to Sign Truce

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP)—The United Nations command has decided to sign an armistice agreement with the Communists despite President Syngman Rhee's opposition, reliable sources said today.

Agreement on the armistice was believed imminent with the actual signing ceremony taking place in only a few days.

Americans on the truce team are hoping Rhee will go along with the final agreement and there is growing optimism that he will. However, the UN realizes it falls short of Rhee's desires.

Staff officers raced toward final agreement on armistice terms. One team met four times here today—the other twice. The meetings will be resumed at 11 a.m. Tuesday (7 p.m. PDT today).

Army bulldozers cleared ground at the UN base in Mun-san for the erection of tents to house armistice personnel and war prisoners.

Ambulance drivers, clerks, military policemen and troops started to arrive. The Munsan airstrip was widened and the roadway improved.

The Chinese Communist Peiping radio said Kaesong, the Red base on the other side of Panmunjom, was "a bustle of activity" preparatory to the signing of an armistice.

In addition to the report from reliable sources, there were other signs that an end to the fighting in Korea is near.

Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Eighth Army commander, cautioned his troops Sunday not to be lulled into believing they can go home just because an armistice is about to be signed.

Taylor and South Korean army chief of staff Paik Sun Yup went to the east-central front today to get a first-hand view of the biggest Communist offensive in two years, an action interpreted here as a Red bid for final "victories" to boast about after the truce is signed.

Planes Unable to Stop Red Surge

SEOUL, Korea (UP)—United Nations planes turned the east-central front into an inferno today in a vain attempt to stop Communist troops who pushed the South Koreans back two miles in a pre-armistice drive toward the 38th Parallel.

Reports from the front indicated that some South Korean units had been cut off and were trying to fight their way back to their own lines.

The UN planes hurled 2,250-000 pounds of bombs on the enemy in an eight-hour attack.
But the 500-plane Allied air strike against enemy ground troops—the biggest since the war started—failed to halt the forward motion of the surging Chinese on their biggest offensive in two years.

An estimated 20,000 to 25,000 Chinese troops took part in the big battle on the east central front after spearheading advance troops had pierced South Korean positions.

The fighting exploded as staff officers at Panmunjom ironed out final details of an armistice that will freeze the battlefield.

It was apparent the Chinese were making one last effort to return the battlefield to the 38th Parallel where the war started three years ago.

The Fifth Air Force met fire on the ground with fire from the air.

The Allied planes, flying in shuttle runs, churned a 30-mile-square area into dust and rubble. Some of the pilots had flown four missions each up to 3 p.m.

Comet Unavailable
For Pacific Route

Britain's fast-flying jet Comet airliners won't fly Canadian Pacific ocean schedules out of Vancouver to the Antipodes this year. Insufficient planes of this type are available.

Canadian Pacific Overseas
Airlines manager F. M. Mc-Gregor announced in Vancouver today the Honolulu-Fiji-Auckland route will be served by new 64-passenger Douglas planes for the present.

Plans for the introduction of jet equipment on the Pacific and other CP routes are still under study, Mr. McGregor said.

Original plans called for a Pacific service by Comets, starting this year. But delivery dates for the airliners have been postponed by the manufacturer.

B.C. SALMON
FISHERMEN
ON STRIKE

5,000 Expected
To Be Involved

VANCOUVER (CP)—A strike of British Columbia salmon fishermen started at one minute past midnight today, coinciding with the opening of the industry's most important season.

Fishermen all along the coast have been told by radio and telegram to keep their boats in port until agreement is reached with operators on 1953 prices.

Certain fishing vessels have been designated as floating picket lines, union leaders said, and their duty will be to see that the tie-up is not broken.

Opening today is the sockeye salmon season. The sockeye has the greatest market value of any of the species of salmon found in B.C. waters.

The strike—second in the industry within a year—will immediately involve 1,500 gillnet fishermen on the Fraser and Skeena rivers. If it continues it is expected to involve some 5,000 fishermen.

The fishermen demand 23 cents a pound for the sockeye.
The operators have made a final offer of 20½ cents. There is also disagreement on prices to be paid for coho, pink and summer and fall chum salmon.

Fall Session
Opens Sept. 15
Says Bennett

Premier W. A. C. Bennett said today that B.C.'s legislature will be called into session Sept. 15.
The Social Credit government hopes that the fall session will see completion of its program
of legislation started last February.

An interim supply bill approved last March, when the minority government was defeated, provided enough money to carry on the business of the province until Sept. 30.

The House must now vote
funds for the remaining six months of the 1953-54 year, Oct.
1 to March 31.

This will be the first order of business, according to Premier W. A. C. Bennett.

Next will be presentation of the Roston Formula on school financing, the measure which caused the defeat of the Social Credit regime last March.

Other legislation includes a new liquor act, new taxation on logging and mining, reduced car
licenses and increased sales tax exemption on meals.

Drew to Speak
Here June 29

Progressive Conservative leader George Drew is expected to speak in Victoria June 29 on the western swing of his Canada-wide election tour.

Details of his appearance here are being worked out, and will be announced soon.

Prime Minister Louis St.
Laurent will speak here about July 10.

Queen Reviews Naval Ships From 22 Nations

Carried Queen to Naval Review

Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, with other members of the Royal Family, viewed today's Coronation naval review off Spithead aboard

the frigate HMS Surprise, above. The frigate, which had been used as a yacht
before returning to Britain last year,
underwent a refit for today's job.

Portsmouth Spectacle
Viewed by 1,000,000

ABOARD HMCS MAGNIFICENT AT SPITHEAD,
Eng. (BUP)—Queen Elizabeth stood on a glass-enclosed gun platform aboard a small dispatch vessel today and reviewed her fleet in a spectacular naval show recalling the greatest days of British naval might.

Included in the review were
1,000 ships of 22 nations.
The Queen, accompanied by her sailor husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, inspected the long lines of vessels from aboard
the 1,590-ton vessel Surprise, which normally carries messages and mail.

The Duke was dressed in the glittering uniform of an admiral of the fleet.

Through the glass window and roof the special platform forward of the bridge, the royal couple conducted the two-hour Coronation naval review, which was the principal feature of a nine-hour show that ranked second only to the Coronation itself as a spectacle of color and pageantry.

Atom Age Warships on Display

Afloat in the Spithead review and ashore on the Isle of Wight and along the Portsmouth harbor stood an estimated 1,000,000 persons.

Millions more watched the spectacle on television.
Assembled in Queen Elizabeth's honor were 206 British and Commonwealth vessels, including such special atom age warships as the carrier Eagle
and the super-destroyer Defender.

It was a far cry from the first Royal Navy review by King George III 180 years ago—
three years before the start of the American Revolution.

It also was a vastly different picture from that of the last royal review, after the coronation of Elizabeth's father, King
George VI, in 1937.

In these 16 years, Britain had fallen from Queen of the Seas
to a third-ranking spot behind
the naval power of the United States and of Russia.

But for sea-proud Britons it
was a stirring display.
Sirens sounded on the vessels
dotting Portsmouth harbor as the Surprise, a sleek gray vessel
flying the Royal Standard, sailed out on a 14-mile cruise through calm but rippled waters. With the ship's company of the Surprise facing out to sea, the Royal Marine Band struck up "Hearts

of Oak." The crowds cheered.

On the quarterdeck, covered by a green and white striped awning, stood Princess Margaret, Queen Mother Elizabeth and other members of the Royal family.

Prince Charles, heir to the throne, and Princess Anne missed the show.

At 2:30 p.m. the Surprise entered the review area, turning westward into the main line of ships comprising Britain's only active battleship, the 42,500-ton
Vanguard, and nine aircraft carriers from Britain, Canada and Australia.

These rode gently at anchor at Queen Elizabeth's starboard.
To port opposite the Vanguard was the 13,600-ton American cruiser Baltimore.

Several hundred yards down the line, separated from the Baltimore by the French cruiser Montcalm, was the Russian cruiser Sverdlov, whose captain, O. I. Rudakov, chatted with Elizabeth at a reception aboard the Surprise earlier today. Their one-minute conversation was conducted through an interpreter.

The fleet, which had sat silently at anchor, suddenly came to life as the big guns thundered and poured a pall of black smoke over the nine lines of vessels. Each line was seven miles long.

In the trim lines reviewed by the Queen were nine British and Commonwealth aircraft carriers, 12 cruisers, four super-destroyers, 28 submarines, 26 destroyers and 44 frigates including the little Magpie, which was Philip's first and final command in the navy.

Warden Morris Abram said
the convicts, in a note addressed to him, demanded that Tahash and six prison guards be fired.

Governor Edwin L. Mechem, who arrived at the prison soon after Abram announced the riot underway, said he was told Homer Lee Gossett, notorious for "Houdini" escape attempts, was a leader of the uprising.

State police quickly mustered at the prison with tear gas, riot guns and sub-machine guns.
Meantime, state police detachments were enroute from Albuquerque and nearby towns.

Terrorists Burn 16
Homes in Kootenays

Bonner Says Government Not Considering Calling in Militia; Awaiting Area Report

The provincial government is not considering calling
in the militia to deal with Sons of Freedom Doukhobors who fired 16 buildings over the week-end.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner, although concerned over
the new outbreaks, said the military is only brought out if the civil administration breaks down.

"This hasn't happened," said
the attorney-general. "Therefore, the RCMP will continue to handle the situation."

Mr. Bonner is awaiting full reports from the Kootenay area,
and could not outline the government's next move.

The terrorists struck in darkness Sunday, burning 16 buildings in the Doukhobor settlements of Krestova, Goose Creek,
Appledale, Winlaw and Perry's
Sliding.

RCMP said the new incendiary raids were organized in apparent retaliation after convicted arsonist Paul Popoff was sentenced Saturday to a 14-
year penitentiary term.

Appearing before Mr. Justice
H. S. Wilson in assize court at Nelson, Popoff was convicted of burning a $45,000 planer mill and a Doukhobor community hall. Both fires occurred last year.

Sunday's fires were the first since June 4, when a home, two
woodsheds and a bathhouse
were destroyed in a raid, also blamed on terrorists of the Sons
of Freedom sect.

Seven Climbs Plenty Says 'Tiger' Tensing

BY PETER JACKSON
THANKING MONKAS
TERRY, Nepal (by Runner)
(Reuters)—The only two men
Everest have told how they embraced each other on the
icy summit and had a "good
look" at the world below before descending 20 minutes
later.

Sitting relaxed and happy
in this snowbound refuge inhabited by Buddhist monks,
Sir Edmund Percival Hillary,
the 33-year-old New Zealand
beekeeper knighted for his
achievement, told me:
"I felt damn good at the top.
It was a beautiful day with a

HILLARY

minutes on the perfect summit."

"I took photographs of Ten-
sing holding a string of flags
of the United Nations, Britain,
Nepal and India," he said.
"Moderate wind. As we got there, my companion threw
his arms around me and embraced me."

And the face of Sherpa guide Tensing Norkey, 39,
who conquered the 29,002-foot
mountain with Hillary, May 29, creased into a winning
smile.

"I was very happy and not particularly tired," he said.
The lean guide, known as the Himalayan "Tiger of the Snows," was asked if he would like to tackle the same assault again.

"No, no, not again," he said.
"Seven attempts are enough.
But I would like to go to K2,
for I think it can be climbed."

K2—Mount Godwin Austen
—is the world's second highest peak at 28,250 feet. A United States expedition is making a bid this year to scale
it. The mountain is in the Karakoram range of the Himalayas in Pakistani territory.

Hillary said he plans to return to bee-farming in New Zealand after a visit to Britain with other members
of the expedition.

"I'd like to come back to the Himalayas again," he said.

The tall, lean mountaineer,
who served in the air force
during the war, said he and
his guide remained "about 26
Hillary, who made four Himalayan expeditions in
three years, said:

"The most impressive sight
was Lhotse a 27,930 peak followed by Kanichenjung 28,146 feet and we could see far over Tibet."

Hillary said he found nothing at the summit to help solve the mysterious disappearance in 1924 of British climbers George Leigh Irving and Andrew Irvine.
They were last seen on the
summit.

Hillary praised expedition
leader Col. John Hunt, who was also knighted by Queen Elizabeth. News of the triumph was flashed to London
on the eve of her Coronation
June 2.

"The whole thing was team effort and the success
is mainly due to Col. Hunt," Hillary said.

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP)
—Col. John Hunt, leader of the British expedition that
conquered Mount Everest
May 29, arrived here Saturday night and reported his

party had found no trace of the two missing climbers who appeared near the icy summit
of the world's highest mountain in 1924.

Members of his successful
16-man expedition, Hunt
chuckled with delight at seeing the bright electric lights
of this Nepalese capital after weeks spent in numbing cold
on the tortuous slopes of Everest, whose conquest
earned him a knighthood
from the Queen.

Turning to his fellow ad-
venturers—Thomas Bourdil-
lon and Alfred Gregory—
Hunt said: "Boys, how about
seeing a motion picture?"

Hunt, 42, told reporters all
members of his party are returning in good health and
without injury.

In describing the final assault Sunday night, Hunt said Hillary had been leading throughout the climb. Then Gregory broke in to say: "It is immaterial who reached top first because both were roped together by a 50-foot-long rope and victory goes to both."

In answer to questions,
Hunt said no signs were found to solve the mystery
of whether two British climbers, George Mallory and Andrew Irvine, ever reached the
top. Mallory and Irvine
reached within a few hundred
feet of the summit in 1924,
then disappeared in the mists
and never were seen again.

A British expedition which failed in 1933 reported it had found some of the Mallory-Irvine equipment intact on the higher reaches. Hunt's team had hoped to find the bodies.

Earlier reports reaching here by native runners from Hunt's expedition said Ten-
sing fought his way to the summit first and then helped Hillary up over the final
hump of ice and rock.

Victory over Everest, which
has defeated 11 previous expeditions since 1921, was celebrated by the climbers with toasts from one brandy bottle, Gregory said. He added:
"We did not have more to celebrate better."

Gregory said he and Hunt
went up 27,500 feet and Bourdillon, a physician, and Dr.
Charles Evans, a naval surgeon, climbed to within 500
feet of the summit.

TENSING

Hunt said his party did not see the "abominable snow-
man" nor did they see any footprints. The snowman is a member of a legendary—
perhaps a mythical—tribe
supposed to make things
tough for daring men who would scale Everest's forbidding summit. Last year's unsuccessful Swiss expedition
said one of its porters
claimed he had been attacked
by a "snowman" but none of
the main party ever saw the
strange character.

Hunt said that in April his party saw unidentified planes
flying near Everest at great
height and amidst clouds.
Nepalese government sources
have reported unidentified
planes over the borders between Nepal and Tibet and
said they believed the planes
were taking off from newly-constructed airfields in Communist-controlled Tibet. Everest lies on the border between
the two countries.

Serious Obstacle

WASHINGTON (AP)—
State Secretary Dulles said today the Communist offensive in Korea could raise a very serious obstacle to a truce.

Dulles said that drawing a truce line was the only remaining major difficulty that he knew of, and the new Communist drive greatly complicated this task.

Pleads Insanity

VANCOUVER (CP)—Defense counsel Harold Fisher today entered a plea of insanity for boxer Sonny Jones, charged with the murder of Mrs. Los Angeles Smith here
March 4.

Counsel admitted Jones had killed Mrs. Smith, but disputed the crown contention that Jones was responsible for his actions at the time.

Call at Embassy

OTTAWA (BUP)—Five representatives of the Ol-fawa committee to save the Rosenbergs called at the U.S. Embassy here today to present a plea for clemency for convicted spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg.

The group, headed by G.
M. Bleakney, an Ottawa attorney, turned the petition over to George R. Vest, second secretary. Vest said the petition, addressed to President Eisenhower, would be sent to the White House.
There was no picketing of the Embassy here, however.

Riot Leader Slain

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—
Homer Lee Gossett, life-term convict reported to be the leader in a day-long riot, was shot and killed Monday as officers moved into the riot-torn New Mexico state penitentiary.

Canadian Wheat Drops 3 Cents

WINNIPEG (CP)—A drop of three cents a bushel in the domestic price of wheat was announced today by the Canadian wheat board following a five-cent decline in world price. The new price is $2.02 a bushel for
No. 1 northern, basis in store
Fort William.

The new price compared with the $1.86 maximum under the International Wheat Agreement ending July 31, and the $2.05 maximum under the agreement going into effect August 1.

Carried Queen to Naval Review

Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, with other members of the Royal Family, viewed today's Coronation naval review off Spithead aboard
the frigate HMS Surprise, above. The frigate, which had been used as a yacht
before returning to Britain last year,
underwent a refit for today's job.

Warships of 22 Nations Reviewed by Elizabeth

ABOARD HMCS MAGNIFICENT AT SPITHEAD,
Eng. (BUP)—Queen Elizabeth stood on a glass-enclosed
gun platform aboard a small dispatch vessel today and reviewed her fleet in a spectacular naval show recalling the greatest days of British naval might.

Included in the review were
1,000 ships of 22 nations.
The Queen, accompanied by her sailor husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, inspected the long
lines of vessels from aboard
the 1,500-ton vessel Surprise,
which normally carries messages and mail.
The Duke was dressed in the

Atom Age Warships on Display

Assembled in Queen Elizabeth's honor were 200 British and Commonwealth vessels, including such special atom age warships as the carrier Eagle
and the super-destroyer Defender.

It was a far cry from the first Royal Navy review by King George III 180 years ago—
three years before the start of the American Revolution.

It also was a vastly different
picture from that of the last
royal review, after the coronation of Elizabeth's father, King
George VI, in 1937.

In these 16 years, Britain had fallen from Queen of the Seas
to a third-ranking spot behind
the naval power of the United States and of Russia.

But for sea-proud Britons it
was a stirring display.
Sirens sounded on the vessels
dotting Portsmouth harbor as
the Surprise, a sleek gray vessel
flying the Royal Standard, sailed
out on a 14-mile cruise through calm but rippled waters. With the ship's company of the Royal Marine Band struck up "Hearts
of Oak." The crowds cheered.

On the quarterdeck, covered
by a green and white striped awning, stood Princess Margaret, Queen Mother Elizabeth
and other members of the Royal family.

Prince Charles, heir to the throne, and Princess Anne
missed the show.
At 2.30 p.m. the Surprise entered the review area, turning westward into the main line of ships comprising Britain's only
active battleship, the 42,500-ton
Vanguard, and nine aircraft carriers from Britain, Canada and Australia.

Civil Control Stands Says Bonner; 16 Homes Burned

The provincial government is not considering calling
in the militia to deal with Sons of Freedom Doukhobors
who fired 16 buildings over
the week-end.

Attorney-General Robert Bon-
ner, although concerned over
the new outbreaks, said the military is only brought out if the civil administration breaks
down.

"This hasn't happened," said
the attorney-general. "Therefore, the RCMP will continue to handle the situation."

Mr. Bonner is awaiting full reports from the Kootenay area,
and could not outline the government's next move.

The terrorists struck in darkness Sunday, burning 16 buildings in the Doukhobor settlements of Krestova, Goose Creek,
Appledale, Winlaw and Perry's
Sliding.

POSSIBLE RETALIATION

RCMP said the new incendiary raids were organized in apparent retaliation after convicted arsonist Paul Popoff was sentenced Saturday to a 14-
year penitentiary term.

Appearing before Mr. Justice
H. S. Wilson in assize court at Nelson, Popoff was convicted of burning a $45,000 planer mill
and a Doukhobor community hall. Both fires occurred last year.

Sunday's fires were the first since June 4, when a home, two
woodsheds and a bathhouse
were destroyed in a raid, also blamed on terrorists of the Sons
of Freedom sect.

One of the buildings destroyed in the new outbreak was a one-room log school for Doukhobors, abandoned earlier for lack of pupils. The other buildings were houses, mostly log shacks.

The assize court was told that Popoff was sent to the penitentiary in 1949 for arson but was released to work for peace among fellow radical Douk-hobors.

Mr. Justice Wilson commented: "I cannot see where there is hope of reformation for this man," but added that perhaps a psychiatric treatment might do some good.

ROSENBERGS DIE THURSDAY

WASHINGTON (UP)—

The Supreme Court refused today to stay the execution of atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg.

The tribunal also refused for the fourth time to review their case.

This apparently means the condemned couple will go to the Sing Sing electric chair at 11 p.m. EDT Thursday—their 14th wedding anniversary—unless they can prevail on President Eisenhower to grant them clemency.

Mr. Eisenhower has once—on Feb. 11—refused them clemency.

Tentative Fall Session Date Sept. 15

It was learned today that Premier Bennett intends to call
B.C.'s legislature into session
Sept. 15.

The Social Credit government
hopes that the fall session will
see completion of its program
of legislation started last February.

An interim supply bill approved last March, when the minority government was de-feared, provided enough money
to carry on the business of the province until Sept. 30.

The House must now vote
funds for the remaining six months of the 1953-54 year, Oct.
1 to March 31.

This will be the first order of business, according to the Premier.

Next will be presentation of the Rolston Formula on school financing, the measure which caused the defeat of the Socred regime last March.

Other legislation includes a
new liquor act, new taxation on logging and mining, reduced car
licenses and increased sales tax exemption on meals.
